ELAINE ROZE'S FASHION BUDGET

Summer Modes in New York...Extensive Vogue of Silk...Miladi Pedestrienne...The Sensible Woman of Fashion.

The silk craze this season is even more strenuous than I foretold in my Palm Beach letter. With the exception of the strictly tailored travelling silk everything is Abis silk. Silk goes shopping and to the theater, for, Miladi argues, is it not one of the most economical as well as beautiful fabrics? Extravagance, thy name is "tub gown".

And Milady is right, as she always is! Abis Messaline taffeta, now so deservedly popular, and carrying its guarantee on the selvage, may be fearlessly selected for the more "dressy" gown. Rich, lustrous and supple to the touch, it is the Queen of fabrics.

Now as to the plain tailormade suit, which some serviceable material and color is one of the first items to be considered in planning the summer wardrobe, and which, though chic must be simple.

Priestly cravanetted cloths are traditional for service for headwear gowns, so why make the tailor gown of perishable fabrics, when such exquisite cloths running the gamut from stunning tweeds for cooler days to the featherweight cloths and mohairs, can be obtained?

The old saying that one may not "know enough to go in when it rains" does not apply to the up-to-date woman who delights in taking her daily constitutional rain or shine, for since the advent of the process that makes any cloth so that rain will neither wet nor spot it, Milady does not have to "go in when it rains" or stifle under that abomination of yore, called the "mackintosh". She has her gown made of cloth with Cravanette stamped upon it and defies the elements in her beauty-building tramps.

With the advent of the tight fitting bodice, instead of the blouse effect at the waist-line, Milady is making a careful study of the corset over which her gown is fitted, but the woman of fashion is far too sensible to return to the old "squeeze-inthe-middle" models-puffed-out abdomen, and the best models, such as the C B a la Spirite, still show all the health-preserving and graceful lines familiar to us in the straight-front corset.

AN ELOQUENT ADDRESS.

There was little in Saranac Lake to remind one of Memorial Day. To the casual observer it was Sunday. The stores for the most part closed their doors at noon and in the afternoon the streets of Lake Placid presented a deserted appearance. A large number accompanied F. M. Bull Post G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps on their trip to Lake Placid where the Memorial Day exercises were held. After the usual decoration of graves of comrades the party listened to a stirring address by Attorney A. L. Blake of Massena. The orator was a stranger to most of those present at the start, but his address was a masterly effort which evoked rounds of applause from an interested audience and left no doubt of the speaker's popularity, when next he appears before a Lake Placid audience.

Mr. Blake is an easy fluent speaker, possessing many of the graces of the finished orator. He held his audience spell bound for ninety minutes and the unanimous sentiment of his hearers at the close was that he might grace future occasions of the same nature by his presence and oratory. We understand the G. A. R. Post passed a resolution in favor of having his fine address printed.

FOR STATE CHARITIES.

Large Sum to be Used in Enlarging Institutions.

An important provision in one of the bills signed by Governor Higgins is that of setting apart $600,000 for enlarging the State's charitable institutions. The uses to which this appropriation will be put will result in furnishing much needed room in several of the State's reformatories and schools. The greater part of the $600,000 will be for new buildings to increase the capacity of the two women's reformatories at Albion and Bedford, for providing additional accommodations for the feeble-minded at Newark and Rome, and for increasing the capacity of Craig Colony for epileptics at Sonyea.

As aresult of the law enacted a year ago, which converted the house of refuge for women at Hudson into a training school for young girls, the total capacity of the women's reformatories in the State was reduced nearly one-half, which made an increase in the capacity of the two remaining institutions imperatively necessary. Under the new law the capacity of the western house of refuge for women at Albion will be increased by 60, the appropriating $28,000 for two new cottages for inmates. A like increase is made at the New York State reformatory for women at Bedford, which receives an appropriation of $40,000 for two new cottages. This increase of 120 in the capacity of these two institutions is believed to be sufficient to meet present requirements.

cost $58,000 are provided for at the New York State custodial asylum for feeble minded women at Newark. They will accommodate about 75 inmates each. New dormitory buildings at the Rome State asylum to cost $60,000 will accommodate 600 inmates These two items of appropriation provide for caring for 350 additional feeble minded. At Craig Colony of epileptics at Sonyea, dormitories will be erected to accommodate 200 patients at a cost of $90,000.

The aggregate increase in population made possible by the new law is about 670, which is the largest increase in capacity of the state charitable institutions made in any one year except where new institutions have been provided for. In former years appropriations for improvements and betterments of state charitable institutions have been made by separate bills a bill being introduced by each institution. This year in compliance with the recommendation made by Gov. Higgins in his annual message to the legislature all of these appropriations were included in one bill.

The special appropriations made for state charitable institutions last year amounted to $614,270 while those of this year aggregate $755,275. Nearly all of the items recommended to the legislature by H. H. Bender, fiscal supervisor of state charities received the approval of Gov. Higgins.

BANKRUPT LONG AGO.

Private Banking House of Wilcox & Co. was in Bad Shape.

[illegible] has been permitted [illegible] of the books of the failed private banking house of [illegible] Wilcox & Co. [illegible] also to learn something at first hand of the methods that characterized the firm's conduct of business before its failure and which our informant is not impressed with certainty as to the assets in the hands of the receiver. He is convinced that Wilcox & Co. had been bankrupt for years before the crash came and [illegible] takes a gloomy view as to the prospects for the depositors at Tupper Lake, Fort Covington, Nicholville and other points where the firm had branch offices. Our informant thinks that Wilcox & Co. had in their months of embarrassment preceding the announcement of actual failure used practically all of their good assets to tide them along and that, apart from the cash that was found, pretty much everything the firm had was of a speculative character, which, if put on the market, could not be sold at all, or at the best, at only nominal prices. We trust that the business may work out better than this report forecasts and that losers may realize more than this man suggests, but fear that the facts show a very bad failure and that little in sight for the creditors.—Malone Palladium

TELEPHONE COMBINATION

Northern New York to be Well Connected.

PRESIDENT FOR PEACE.

Defalcation in Federal Institution. Beef Trust Emisaries are in Washington.

There seems to be little doubt that the President's earnest efforts in behalf of peace in the Far East have met with success. From unofficial but apparently authentic advices received from St. Petersburg it is learned that the Czar has virtually sued for peace. That is he has instructed his ambassadors at Paris and Washington to take the necessary steps to learn on what terms Japan will make peace. This, in the estimation of practically all the diplomats in Washington, means that Russia will fight no longer although it is appreciated that it may take some time to reach a final agreement. It is generally believed that the frank though friendly representations of the President whose reputation is by no means that of a "peace at any price statesman", have had much to do with inducing the Russian Emperor to take this step and the representatives of other European powers in Washington express a lively appreciation of the good offices already exerted by the Chief Executive [illegible]

[illegible] consigned to a firm in Hong Kong on the specious plea that even this flour might have found its way into the hands of the Japanese commissary officers. This question of the proper [illegible] of contraband of war is one of the most important problems which it is hoped to settle at The Hague [illegible]

The [illegible] of the Beef Trust are [illegible] to Washington to treat with the President against the character of the methods employed by federal officials [illegible] that the Trust is violating the anti-trust law is a source of amazement to the officials of the department of Justice. It is well known that the Trust will stop at nothing [illegible] its efforts to drive a competitor out of business [illegible] independent packer who attempts to pay the stock raiser or farmer a higher price for his stock than has been dictated by the Trust. And yet when the government attempts to secure legal proof of these practices the Trust virtuously exclaims that its methods are disgracefully unfair that at least the women stenographers and the wives of officials ought not to be summoned in a prosecution which involves the vital interests of every man, woman and child old enough to eat meat in the country. The officials of the Department of Justice are confident however that the politicians who appeal to the President in behalf of the Trust will receive cold comfort.

A defalcation has occurred in one of the federal institutions in Washington which has not only created a sensation in itself but which may lead to revelations of an even more sensational, if less flagrant, character. Wm. W. Karr, accountant of the Smithsonian Institution has been arrested on the charge of embezzlement and has confessed to a shortage in his accounts of upwards of $46,000, being unable to state the exact amount. Most of this sum was deducted from the receipts of the institution from what is known as the Foreign Exchanges to which various institutions of learning pay large sums for the distribution of their scientific publications abroad. It appears that the Treasury refuses to accept the checks of private concerns and individuals and it fell to Karr to cash such checks when deposited for payment and then deposit the cash in the Treasury. For a period not yet known Karr has been appropriating to his own use a greater or less proportion of these receipts only by the merest accident was his defalcation discovered. It is claimed that in the course of Karr's trial certain revelations regarding the methods of the institution will come to light which will prove a shock to those who have been taught to revere the Smithsonian Institution and its "Director".

Change in Time on New York Central Sunday, June 18.

The summer train schedule of the New York Central will take effect on Sunday, June 18, and on that date popular low rate excursions to the various resorts will be resumed. Most of the present trains will be continued though in some cases the time may be slightly changed, and many new trains will be added. Complete information may be obtained at New York Central Ticket Offices. 1w4.

GETTING READY FOR SNOW.

New York Central Officials Preparing for Next Winter.

During the torrid days of June, July and August the question of fighting snow between Syracuse and Watertown on the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg division of the New York Central Railroad, will occupy the attention of the engineering and operating officeials of the Vanderbilt system.

For several years this part of the New York Central lines has been seriously tied up and each winter appears to bring more serious delays. For weeks last winter it was with great difficulty that the road was kept open for passenger service, to say nothing of the moving of freight trains. The conditions along the line are such that the elements have easy work in getting the best of the men who fight snow and the officials who direct the work.

To change these conditions is the problem. It is proposed to reduce the most troublesome cuts by securing additional land on each side of the track and then by the use of a large steam shovel dig away a sufficient part of the embankment on both sides to give the road a broad opening. After this is done two sets of snow fences will be built [illegible]

[illegible] R. W. & O. property [illegible] be taken after the [illegible] work between Syracuse [illegible] Watertown [illegible] finished.

Eighteen Hours Between New York and Chicago

At the conference of the members of the New York Central lines recently [illegible] being represented by their [illegible] Managers and Passenger officials it was decided beginning with the regular change, Sunday June 18, to quicken the speed of the Twentieth Century Limited so as to make the run between New York and Chicago 18 hours instead of 20. The New York Central lines having made the 20 hour run during the past three years and having also made the run between New York and Chicago in 20 hours with their Exposition Flyer for the [illegible] days of the Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893, twelve years ago.

The New York Central lines make the claim that the New York Central has had in service the Empire State Express which has been the fastest train in the world for its distance 440 miles for 14 years having held the world's record for that time and for three years and 150 days having held the record for 1000 mile trail in 20 hours.

The proposed schedule of 18 hours is simply the extension of time of the Empire State Express through from Buffalo to Chicago, the time saving been made for 14 years between New York and Buffalo.

At the same time the Lake Shore Limited will be quickened one hour and will make the time from Chicago to New York in 23 hours instead of 24 leaving Chicago at 5.30 p. m. via the Lake Shore arriving in New York at 5.30 p. m. by the New York Central.

The Southwestern Limited train No. 11, which now leaves Grand Central Station at 1.00 p. m. will, beginning June 18, leave at 2.04 p. m., saving an hour or an hour and a half on the present journey to St. Louis and Cincinnati.

No Secret About It.

It is no secret that cuts, burns, ulcers, fever sores, sore eyes, boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory of Hope, Tex. 25c. at W. T. Hinman & Co.'s Potsdam, or Newton & Gilmore's Parishville, drug stores.

The Great Inbred Wilkes Stallion,

MOLYN 31806,

Brown Horse by Allerton 2:09 1-4; Dam by Eagle Bird 2:21

In offering this young stallion, Molyn, for service to the public we offer one of the best bred young sons of Allerton in the country, he being four times bred to George Wilkes, twice through Allerton, grandson of George Wilkes and Nora, the second dam of Allerton, a daughter of George Wilkes, twice through Eagle Bird, record 2:21, sire of the dam of Molyn. Eagle Bird was sired by Jay Bird, son of George Wilkes, and Eagle Bird's dam, Tansey, was by George Wilkes. She is in the great brood mare list, being the dam of Eagle Bird 2:21 and Butterfly 2:19¾; the dam of Tansey was Dame Tansey, daughter of Daniel Lambert, who is also in the great brood mare list, being the dam of 3, Busby 2:29¼, Marie Jansen 2:21¾, Prima Donna 2:09¼, and grandam of 4, Banquet 2:24, Castalia 2:22¼, Butterfly 2:19¾, Eagle Bird 2:21.

Molyn's dam, Lida Bowman, is a daughter of Mary, dam of Cristo Queen 2:11¾. If you read this pedigree you will see that Molyn is not only fashionably bred, but also bred in extreme producing lines. It is admitted by all breeders and fair minded men that a double infusion of any great producing family, when coming from both sides of the house, as it does in Molyn's pedigree from the greatest of all producing familiys George Wilkes to be worth double what it would be if it only came from the sire's side. And above all other things that is to be looked for in a young stallion is producing dams and those close up of extreme speed.

Molyn is fifteen hands, two and one-half inches high, weighs 1100 lbs., is nice gaited and can show you any day that he is a trotter. He will make the season of 1906 at the Fair Grounds, Potsdam, N. Y., at $15, payable at service with money or note, with the right to return mare until you get a living colt.

Will stand for the Season of 1905 at the

FAIR GROUND BARN, POTSDAM,

TERMS: $15.00 with right to return mare until a living foal is secured.

ELIAL D.

Elial D. has all that is required of a successful sire in the production of the light harness horse, viz. Good individuality and good breeding Can produce his kind with great uniformity, and his for opportunity a perfect gait and great speed. He is a Dark Dapple Chestnut, star in forehead, two hind white ankles, stands 16 hands high, weighs 1,125 pounds, with perfect conformation, symetry of form and great docility. He has proved a winner no matter where shown. His sire, Elial G., has produced more trotters than any other horse that ever stood for service in this county and his sons are breeding on so wonderfully that he will always remain as he now is, the best son of the almighty Aberdeen. Elial D. is as well bred on his dam's side: she being the dam of Brown Nell 2:23 (trial 2.10), and she was a daughter of Hercules, a son of Garabaldi and out of a daughter of Mambrino Chief. This shows him to be an inbred Hambletonian, crossed with Mambrino and through the very best stock that came from the loins of the Old Hero of Chester.
