PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Diphtheria. Diphtheria sometimes begins in a very mild way. Nature does not always give a loud warning of danger. Unrecognized nasal diphtheria of a mild type is largely responsible for the outbreaks of this disease in schools, institutions and communities. It is important therefore to be on guard at the first sign of a sore throat with fever, especially when the disease is prevalent. Send for a doctor and have him take a culture in throat and nose in season. This means of preventing the spread of diphtheria is usually with easy reach of all. Do not neglect it.

ABOARD A SUBMARINE.

Some of the Difficulties With Which the Captain is Beset. The London Times recently described the difficulties that confront the officers and crew of a submarine during actual warfare. The captain of the submarine must lie in wait for his quarry with the nose of his boat pointing in the direction in which he expects the enemy's vessel to pass. The lieutenants estimate the speed of the approaching ship and her distance and fire torpedoes at the point at which he believes she will have arrived when the torpedo has finished its run. Probably he will discharge another torpedo a few seconds later to make doubly sure.

In the discussion raised by the letter sent to the Times last June by Admiral Sir Percy Scott, Admiral Bacon, himself an expert and experienced handler of submarines, said: "If any of your readers wishes to appreciate some of the difficulties of submarine work, let him sit down under a chair of the chair suspended from the ceiling, let him punch a hole through it and above the hole place a piece of looking glass inclined at forty-five degrees. Let him further imagine his chair and glass moving sideways as the effect of the wind is spread equally all the room with steam to represent mist. Let him finally crumple the chair into ridges to represent the waves and then try to carry out some of the maneuvers that look so simple when the chair is spread out on the table and looked down upon in the quiet solitude of a well lit study."

Beef Steer. Out into small pieces two pounds of any of the cheaper cuts of beef. Add one small yellow potato, one carrot, one onion and a few small sized potatoes, a little salt and about a quart of cold water. The onion should be sliced and the other vegetables sliced. Place the meat in the bottom of the kettle and cover with the vegetables. Pour the water over all and cover it close. When it is boiling set it back where it will simmer for a couple of hours.

MME. BERNHARDT LOSES A LEG.

The right leg of Madame Sarah Bernhardt, the famous tragedienne, was amputated Monday at the St. Augustine hospital at Azacaron, France. The operation which was made necessary by an affection of the knee which had caused the actress much suffering for several years, was performed by Prof. De Luce of the Bordeaux University.

Madame Bernhardt refused to submit to a dechy of what she courageously called her release from bondage and it was decided that Prof. De Luce should perform the operation. The operation was successfully performed and the condition of Mme. Bernhardt is as good as could be expected.

CHILD BREAKS THROUGH ICE.

Winfield Cline, six year old son of Capt. and Mrs. Weston U. Cline, of Massena, broke through the ice and was drowned in Gosse river late Friday afternoon.

The child played about his home all day Friday and went into the house about 4 for a lunch. He then left the house and that was the last seen of him. When he failed to come in at supper time the family thought he was at the home of some of his playmates nearby. Later, when he failed to return a search was made for him. The Cline home is on Centre street and from the back of the house a steep path leads down to the river, a distance of 20 rods. Finally the searchers went to the river and found the fresh tracks in the soft snow, where he had been with his dog. They followed the tracks onto the ice and found his little body in a shallow hole in the ice where he had evidently fallen in. The ice at that point was very thin and as he started to walk over it would not hold him up.

The body was raked from the river bottom about 9 Monday morning. The water at that point was not about 2 feet deep and the body was only 200 feet from where the child fell in.

If human beings would soberly consider in how many ways they violate the laws of health, they would be inclined to concede that the cost of life in traditional nine lives has no advantage over them.

Norwood is going to establish an employment bureau.

TABLES WERE TOO COSTLY.

Lieutenant Governor Would Not Stand For It.

Tables at $10,000 each and chairs at $250 a set of six were considered altogether too extravagant by Lieutenant Governor Edward Schoenck at the last meeting of the Trustees of Public Buildings. He declared that he would never consent to such an expenditure on the part of the state, which effectively blocked the plan. The State Workmen's Compensation Commission recently was criticised for spending $52 for a chair.

Eight tables and 48 chairs are wanted to furnish the Assembly Library, which has just been repaired after the fire of four years ago. With white parian marble walls and ceiling, elaborately carved mantle and fireplace, massive gold finished electrolites, parquette floors and other palatial features, it is probably the most magnificently adorned room of the kind in the state. It occupies the center of the third floor of the west wing and it is as large as a convention hall. State Architect Lewis F. Picher had prepared plans and specifications for the furniture of carved mahogany. Eight tables were to be arranged in two rows through the center of the room. The plan called for six chairs at each table. All were of special design, supposed to please the most artistic, and to bring peace and erudition to overworked legislators.

All this is now to go by the board and it is highly probable that users of the Assembly Library will have to be content with tables costing the modest sum of $400 or $500 each, and to repose in chairs costing the state some $25 per.

MR. MOORE IS RE-ELECTED.

Chosen As Head of Paper Association.

Frank L. Moore, the president and general manager of the Newton Falls Paper Company, of Watertown, was at the annual meeting of the American Paper & Pulp Association Thursday, re-elected president of the association, and Frank J. Sensenbrenner, of Wisconsin, was chosen first vice-president. A number of other vice-presidents in charge of the several divisions will be chosen. Willis H. Howes, of the Knowlton Brothers Paper Company, of Watertown, was elected vice-president in charge of the cover division, and Geo. F. Clark, also of Watertown, an officer of the Brownville Board Company, was made vice president in charge of the specialty division. The meeting was the largest and most enthusiastic in the history of the association.

President Moore referred to the upheaval and unrest in the business world during the past year, and blamed the war and the free trade policy of this country. He said the manufacturers had been called upon to face labor troubles, increased cost of manufacturing, part of which has been due to destructive legislation and a part to diminishing consumption. He contended that it was time that the government was guided less by theories and more by experience and practice. He advocated a non-partisan tariff commission and a protective tariff. The United States, he said, should adopt the policy of the German government in fostering, protecting and looking after its industries. The American Pulp & Paper Association should begin a campaign of education to change the trend of public thought regarding industries.

CONDUCTOR LOSES BOTH LEGS.

Accident Occurs At Night In The Yard at Philadelphia.

W. H. Buell, about 60 years of age, a freight conductor whose home is in Norwood, died at the City Hospital in Watertown Monday afternoon as the result of an accident which occurred in the freight yards at Philadelphia Saturday morning when he had both legs severed at the knees.

Mr. Buell, an employe of the New York Central for many years, left at 2 o'clock Saturday morning as conductor of Train No. 29, running between there and Norwood.

Just how the accident occurred no one knows, for the first intimation that Mr. Buell was badly injured came when the engineer heard some one yell out in pain. An investigation was made and the conductor was found beneath one of the cars, both legs severed and the right one fractured also above the knee. It is thought that Mr. Buell slipped in the darkness and fell beneath his train.

A special consisting of an engine and caboose was made up at Philadelphia and with the injured man aboard was rushed to Watertown, reaching there at 7:25. Mr. Buell was hurried to the City Hospital, but no operation was performed, the legs having been severed completely and on account of the man's condition from shock and loss of blood.

Mr. Buell has four children, his wife having died some time ago.

CHANGES IN ELECTION LAW.

Traveling Men May Register By Affidavit.

A bill introduced in the Senate by Senator S. A. Jones legislates out of office—the commissioner of election in all the counties of the state except New York, Erie, Onondaga, Westchester and Queens. Also all of the deputy superintendents of election outside these counties.

Another bill introduced by Mr. Jones provides that the polls shall open on primary day at 8 a. m. and close at 9 p. m., whereas at the present time they open at 3 p. m. and close at 10 p. m. The bill also provides that the first day of registration and primary day shall coincide. The bill also provides that a traveling man may vote by making an affidavit extending his registration from year to year. It also provides that the place of stay in the old election law shall be repealed.

A third bill by Mr. Jones provides that the three state superintendents of election shall be appointed and in their place one state superintendent of elections to be named at a salary of $5000. The changes proposed would save the state several hundred thousand dollars a year.

The Truth About Pianos

Proved by showing you actual wholesale prices if necessary.

THE PIANO BUSINESS

Is a very peculiar business. The fact that not one person in a hundred knows the value of a Piano, is the reason piano men are able to extract enormous profits from buyers.

DON'T BE MISLED

By this quality talk. Piano manufacturers are not manufacturers at all—simply assemblers. They buy their cases, backs, iron plate, actions, soundboards, keys, strings and hardware of as many different makers, and put them together, finish the case, and send them out to the trade at $100 to $150 each.

DON'T PAY $250 TO $350 For these Pianos.

We sell all grades of Pianos, the same as other dealers, but save you $50 or more. Reliable pianos, $150 up. Thirty-three years selling Pianos. Cash will do wonders. Our easy terms are surprising. Customers railroad fare paid.
