—Abe Osler, who has been employed by the Standard Oil Co. at its local branch for the past thirty years, has been retired on a pension. He will operate a retail oil wagon in this section on his own account shortly.

—Work on the local and improvements has been resumed by the Central the past few days. A large number of cars of cinders will be unloaded. The stock at the new cattle yards in Washington street will be extended north about ten car lengths.

—The snow has disappeared rapidly from the state roads the past week and they are free and open for automobile traffic. Firms operating motor trucks have placed them in operation for the season and the various automobile stage-lines leading from this village will start soon. That between Colton and Potsdam started last week.

—The fire department is expecting a new siren whistle which will be tried out at the new central fire station. A few weeks ago a siren was installed in the tower there but failed to operate satisfactorily. The whistle now on the road operates by electric current as did the other. It is made in Denver, Colo. Its makers claim it can be heard a distance of five miles.

—The Tribune-Republican of Greeley, Colo., has the following on a plain recital given by Miss Emma C. Brady: "A delightful informal piano recital was given on Thursday evening by Miss Emma C. Brady at the home of Miss Dorothy Jackson, when a program was rendered, reflecting great credit on her teachers, Mrs. Chas. Southard and Miss Ora McCord." Miss Brady is the daughter of Mrs. Agnes H. Brady, a former student of the Crane Institute of Music.

—Miss Mary Seaman, head milliner at Duffy-Rivers Co., returned today after a two weeks stay in New York studying new millinery styles for spring. Miss Seaman attended all of the millinery openings of the noted shops on Fifth Avenue and will show all the new styles at Duffy-Rivers Co. opening Wednesday and Thursday, March 31 and April 1.

—The case of Mrs. Lyman against the Village of Potsdam, which has attracted considerable attention among lawyers on account of the unusual legal features involved which were disclosed at the time of the recent trial before the Supreme Court at Canton, will be carried to the Appellate Division on appeal. Mrs. Lyman's counsel, Attorney Geo. J. Moore of Malone, has decided to take this action.

—Mrs. Lyman was injured here in a runaway accident last spring. Her horse becoming frightened at a pile of rubbish left beside the curb on "Clean Up Day." She sued the corporation, alleging that they were responsible. The jury brought in a verdict of $500, but this was set aside by a ruling of Justice Whitmeyer, who granted a motion made by the village attorneys to throw the case out of court. Decision was reserved at the time the motion was made, and it was recently decided.

—Just a year ago today, March 24th, Rev. Benjamin Clearmont, made his first—but by no means last—appearance in this village.

—Competition among the hackmen is keen at the local station these days. The price until recently has been 25 cents per passenger. A new hack line dropped the fare to ten cents, whereupon the others retaliated with the cry of "Free Hack!" And the end is not yet.

—Monday and Tuesday of this week have been the first real sap days this spring and yesterday particularly some good runs were reported. There is every reason to believe the present sugar season will be a good one.

—It is a peculiar commentary on human nature," said a business man last week, "that there are always some votes cast against the proposition to pay the firemen $500 a year for their services. I see by the reports of the charter election that this year was no exception. I wonder if the people who vote against it know that they enjoy the lowest insurance rate obtainable in the state, solely through the existence of this department they vote against. It's not a matter of sentiment to give the firemen this money. It's a plain business proposition."

—The seniors in civil engineering at Clarkson made a trip to Watertown Wednesday of last week where they inspected various engineering works about the city. Prof. Miller accompanied them.

—Students in mechanical engineering ran a boiler test with the college heating plant last week. The test ran forty hours and fifty students conducted it under the direction of Prof. Powers.

—The faculty of the Normal defeated the faculty of Clarkson 41 to 11 in the college gymnasium Saturday.

—There was a large crowd to witness the game and they were amply rewarded for their attendance, for the contest had some features ludicrous enough to keep everyone in an uproar. R. L. Sisson, Jr., refereed the game and it is said he had a harder time of it than when he officiated at many an intercollegiate contest. An effort is being made to arrange for another game in the Normal gymnasium on Friday evening of this week.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Carlton died at the home of James Heath east of this village Thursday morning after an illness of about six weeks. The funeral was conducted by Rev. S. T. Dibble and interment was at Garfield. Mrs. Carlton had no near relatives. She was 65 years of age.

XTRAGOOD Clothes for Boys

The Spring Suits for Boys Are Here.

Mothers should look particularly for the points in a Boys' Suit that will cause it to hold its shape and good appearance under the rough treatment that boys usually give.

XTRAGOOD is re-inforced at every "strain-point." Trousers are full-lined with extra-strong twill lining. Special canvas coat fronts, and seams piped, or sewed three times to prevent breaking, give the garment double life as compared with ordinary clothing.

XTRAGOOD Boys' Clothing for this season is designed and made on newer and even more harmonious lines than heretofore. The fabrics and colorings are new and very attractive. The tailoring, as usual, is as good as that in the clothing made for men, and the prices moderate.
