How big is the job of beating the Jap?

No one knows. No one can say with certainty how big the job of licking him is—but this is how big the Jap is, this may give you an idea:

The Jap has a giant empire—Somehow we have always looked upon Japan as a small nation, a "little Island." But—the Japanese empire is vast, huge, one of the largest in the world. It is nearly 5,000 miles long. It is over 3,000 miles wide. 400,000,000 people now live under Japanese rule—three times as many people as there are in the United States.

The Jap has great production—Japan's home islands are industrialized to an eye-widening degree. So are vast areas Japan has held for the past twenty years. The Japs are building planes, ships, guns and tanks in huge numbers. Japanese workers work 16 hours a day, 7 days a week. The fiber of the Jap is tough stuff. How big is the job of beating him? No one can say. But this is how big the Jap is—this may give you an idea.

The Jap has a huge army—Japan can put in the field from 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 war-hardened fighters. 2,000,000 more can be quickly called. How many is six million soldiers? Three times as many as there were Germans fighting the allied armies in western Germany.

The Jap has ample resources—In their home islands and the vast territories the Japs have taken are all the things that Japan needs to conduct a long and vicious war. The figures on Japan's resources are startling - in many cases, greater than ours.

Says Admiral Halsey: "The Japanese are hard fighters. It will take all the force America can muster to beat them. The task may be long, how long no one can say. But we can say this: It can be shortened only if every American worker sticks to his job of backing American fighters. It will take the best every one of us can do to beat Japan."
