Clears the Goal Area

Defenseman Murray Beach (center) clears puck (upper right) off the stick of Carleton's striped John MacDonell who had moved into scoring position during Tuesday night's game at Clarkson Arena. Goaler Mac Prosser watches the clearing play.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1951 PAGE 4

Clarkson College's hockey team auspiciously opened its season Tuesday night at the Clarkson Arena by swamping Carleton College, 8 to 2, on an ice surface which should have been sequestered rather than shaved during the intermissions. The game only partially demonstrated Clarkson's potentialities on the ice, but got the year's work well into gear in spite of occasional digressions from the course of finished, heads-up hockey.

Bill Munro was outstanding for the Green and Gold, as he turned the hat-trick with but 40 seconds left to go in the game. Stan Moore called two goals from Carleton, whose offense was powerless throughout the evening, and hit the net's post in the second frame to brush close to the three-goal mark.

Clarkson's puckchasers, with a hefty victory over Carleton College to their credit in the new year's competition, will face Williams College on Saturday night at 8 o'clock and St. Lawrence University on Tuesday night in their first two games in the newly-formed Tri-State League. The games will be in Potsdam—if there is any ice.

The loop includes teams from the states of New York, Massachusetts and Vermont. Other members of the league are Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Colgate and Middlebury. It is hoped that Hamilton and Army will join shortly.

Before last night, when RPI faced the Larries, no games had been played in the league. However, RPI's win over Colgate before the league was formally organized, counts as a league victory.

Bill Harrison's sextet has more depth in the right places than any Clarkson team since 1948. Barring drafts and scholastic upheavals, this advantage should remain with the Knights for the remainder of the current season.

Coach Harrison will probably start with the same team which began the Carleton fray when the Ephems arrive from Williams-town. At the goal will be Moe Prosser; defencemen are the powerful Murray Beach and Ken Brown, scrappy playbreaker. Al Siddall, center, will probably be teamed with Bill Munro, a score-and-assist combo, which gave the visitors a tough time on Tuesday. Stan Moore rounds out the starting lineup for Saturday night at the wing.

Carleton drew first blood at 1:40 of the first period when Bob MacArthur took an assist from Gordon Peterkin and slapped it past Moe Prosser, Tech's goaler. But the Green Knights evened up the score at 4:52 while Carleton's Pete Thompson rested in the penalty box for elbowing Munro, assisted by Al Siddall, accounted for this score, the first in a long Tech string.

Moore teamed up with Ken Brown and Munro at 9:14, with the sides even, to wish in the second goal for the Knights.

With seven seconds to go in the period Moore connected again when he took a pass from Munro and crashed the puck through the lead and was removed from the game. He was back soon, however, having shaken off the bruises. Although Carleton's captain, Beattie, was banished early in the game for boarding and the goaler, Norm Zagerman, was tumbled and stunned for a minute, Clarkson could not score until 8:30 when Ken Brown found a hole in the nets after taking a pass by Siddall.

Thompson netted Carleton's last point at 10:30, but it was cancelled two and a half minutes late when Siddall scored on a pass from Munro which faked the goaler out of position for the crucial second.

Team-Up Revised

Little more than a minute later, the Munro-Siddall combination was revived, this time to give the scoring honors to Munro at 13:50. Bill Drummond, fresh from the pen after a tripping penalty scored at 19:32 of the second, although Siddall was still in the box for the same reason. Carleton's final tally of the period, Clarkson's depth was beginning to tell on the visitors, who were tired out by the soft ice.

In the final stanza, each team held off offensive drives although they had two men in the hooner; but Munro finally streaked through again with both sides even, to drive in his unassisted third goal at 19:20.

Toronto Comes Next On Tech Court Card

Hank Hodge's Golden Knights, with three wins and two defeats on their basketball record for the 1950 segment of the current season, are back at work this week in the Clarkson gym, drilling for the encounter with the University of Toronto on Friday night at 8 o'clock. Ed Siedlecki and Leo Colavito lead the local hoopmen with, respectively, 72 and 71 points scored thus far in five-game intercollegiate competition. Clarkson has won over McGill, Champlain and Kings Point, while the Engineers fell prey to quizzets from Cornell, well in the running for Eastern Intercollegiate League laurels, and the Seahawks of Wagner College, one of the powers in the Greater New York loop.

After the Canadians, Clarkson will take on the Red Raiders of Colgate on Wednesday, Jan. 10 in a game played at Hamilton.

Beside Siedlecki and Colavito, Coach Hodge will probably give the starting nod to lanky Stu Landersman, Bob Hodge and Captain Tom Gatta.

Potsdam Preps For Canton Tilt, Match with OFA

Potsdam High School's basketball team has rolled into another week of drills under the aegis of Ray Harrington. It is preparing for the second shift of Northern New York Scholastic competition which will be played at St. Lawrence University's Appleton Arena against Canton on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 6. The game will be among the opening day festivities at the new SLU sports arena.

Other games in the loop will be played on Friday night, when Massena faces Tupper Lake, Norwood-Norfolk plays at Malone and Saranac comes up against Gouverneur.

Potsdam will joist with the powerful quintet from Ogdensburg Free Academy on Tuesday on Leroy St. The crew from the 'Burg, although it ranks third behind Potsdam and Tupper Lake, are still potentially dangerous to every team in the circuit.

Also on Tuesday, Tupper will journey to Saranac, Canton plays Massena in the aluminum city, while Gouverneur plays on Norwood-Norfolk's Central's home court.

Potsdam (5-0) leads the circuit race, followed by Tupper Lake (4-0). Behind the leaders are Ogdensburg (5-1), Massena (4-1), Canton (2-3), Saranac Lake (2-3), Norwood-Norfolk (1-4), Gouverneur (0-5) and Malone (0-0).
