by DENNIS WEBSTER

Veterans with government insurance can start looking forward to another dividend. Leonard W. ...

Veterans whose policies have a anniversary dates in January and February will receive their payments first. No forms have been issued yet for the bonanza, Mr. Fisk said. He feels that an automatic payment will be made without formal application.

Employees of the Putnam-Hawley Construction Co. and Putnam-Hawley Building Materials Corp. will have consecutive license plates beginning with PH this year. There are 21 plates for the 18 workers.

The series was obtained from the Fort Henry area in Essex County.

Charles E. Wilson, boss of the nation's mobilization for defense or war, is a director of Clarkson College. The director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, formerly president of General Electric, will have powers second only to President Truman to direct the nation's effort.

In 1945 at Clarkson's 50th anniversary convocation, Mr. Wilson was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of engineering.

Last week the U. S. Navy re-criters sent out a note that rumored cuts in naval enlistments were not in the works. This was followed almost immediately by another story that regular navy enlistments were to be put on quota.

Naval training stations in Newport, Great Lakes and San Diego are filled to capacity. From now until further notice the navy will be extra choosy about the men it accepts.

Herb Cohen, manager of the local Fishman's store, says he can't set a date for the beginning of construction on the addition to the Market St. store. Plans were drawn for the project on Nov. 16, 1950 but he says he knows of no contracts that have yet been signed.

The proposed expansion would bring the store to the northern side of Raymond St. and the village planning commission has recommended that an arcade be built there.

The company and the village seem to be headed for a debate on the use of this space.

A meat cutting exhibition will be given by an agricultural specialist from Cornell University at the Madrid Library today at 1:30. This will be a fine opportunity for all us wage earners who have forgotten what the stuff looks like to refresh our memories.

Police Chief Floyed Gilson gave the village board a little lesson on how to break into parking meters at its Monday meeting. He was explaining the recent series of thefts from the nickel-grabbers.

But don't ask the chief for the details—he's not holding classes on how to make spending money.

Tech Professors Attend Meeting

Two Clarkson College faculty members attended a meeting of representatives of the New York State Certified Accountants Board of Examiners and the Division of Professional Education of the New York State Education Department last week.

In New York City are Lowell W. Herron, professor of business administration and dean of the faculty, and George Oberst, professor of business administration. Deans and presidents of 19 colleges in this state with accredited curricula in accounting attended the meeting. On Thursday night conferences were held at City College and Friday meetings were held at Columbia University.

Issue Jail Term, Fine On Intoxication Charges

Public intoxication charges brought a fine to one man and jail to another over the weekend.

Peter White, who gave his address as Hogansburg, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail at Canton in lieu of a $10 fine. He was arraigned before Police Justice Thomas W. Perrin after having been arrested on Water St. at 7:30 Saturday night. John Moore of the Potsdam-Canton road was fined $10 by Judge Perrin. He was found asleep in his auto in the middle of the street early Sunday morning.

AAUW Plans Luncheon To Benefit Student Fund

The American Association of University Women will hold its annual fellowship luncheon on Saturday, Jan. 20 at 1 p. m. in the women's club room the civic center. Guests are welcome.

The purpose of this luncheon is to raise money for the Fellowship Fund. This fund, which now totals approximately $1,000,000, makes it possible each year to place about 15 persons of exceptional ability in graduate work. Through international grants, some 30 to 40 students are brought from foreign countries for advanced study in selected U. S. universities.

A play pageant depicting the history of AAUW since its founding in 1881. Written by Neta Lohmes Frazier of the Spokane, Wash. branch, it will be produced here under the direction of Mrs. Rocco F. Dominick, assisted by Mrs. Mary Weigel and Mrs. Marvin Garner. Miss Jessie McCall, fellowship chairman, is in general charge of the luncheon.

TO DISCUSS FACULTY

"What Makes a Good Faculty Member?" will be discussed at the Clarkson College faculty colloquium meeting today at 4:15 p. m. in room 18 of the Endicott Building. Participating in the panel discussion will be Lowell W. Herron, dean of the faculty, and Dr. Lynn L. Merrill, director of graduate study.

A&P's Price Policy

• Storewide low prices on hundreds of items every day... instead of just a few "one-day" or "week-end" specials.

• Advertised prices are guaranteed for one week, even though market prices go up.

We believe this policy helps our customers save more money.

• With the correct price marked on every item, plus an itemized cash register slip... you know what you save at A&P.
