

Ceremonies Sunday to Dedicate Colton School, Exhibitions Set

Colton — Dedication ceremonies for the new Colton-Pierrepont Central School will take place this coming Sunday at 2:30 in the afternoon, May 25, in the school auditorium. It will be followed by a class room openhouse, where exhibits of student work in all years and in all subjects will be viewed. Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria. The principal speaker will be William K. Wilson of the division of school buildings and grounds, State Education Department.

These ceremonies culminate nine years of work on the part of people of the Colton-Pierrepont area, following destruction by fire of the Union Free School building in Apr. 1943. While students carried on their work in the town hall, the Zion Episcopal Church Rectory, and residence now known as the faculty house, the work on centralization was begun.

On June 15, 1944, by a vote of 244 to 117, an area comprising 17 school districts was centralized. Union Free School District 1; Common School districts 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 10; Pierrepont Common Districts 1, 7, 10, 11, 12, 13, 15 and Parishville 13.

Purchased in 1945

An Apr. 17, 1945, a 30-acre site located on the main road and slightly north of the village was purchased from Otis Schoffell for $1,500. On Dec. 19, 1945, the people of the area voted $6,600 for the preparation of both the preliminary and the final plans, and the specifications for a new school building. An equal sum was furnished for this purpose by the Post-War Planning Commission.

By a vote of 350 to 112, on June 12, 1948, a bond issue of $522,000 for the erection of the present school building was approved by voters of the centralized district, and work on preparing the site was begun. By June 1950 work had progressed far enough that the annual junior prom was held in the completed auditorium, and the school was occupied by its first formal classes in September of the same year. On Nov. 30, 1951, the Colton-Pierrepont Central School was approved by the Board of Regents as a four-year high school.

Many in Faculty

The present faculty of the Colton-Pierrepont Central School includes Michael H. Corbitt, supervising principal; a high school faculty including William Butler, William Rich Jr., Frank Raymo, Howard Delaney, Joseph Caruso, Gordon Theissen, Belva Hawley, Patricia Duffy, Leonora Trauger and Madolyn Saucier; the elementary teachers, Beulah McCarthy, Ella Corcoran, Virginia McEwen, Marion Thomas, Shirley Leary, Esther Lennox, Lloyd Wilcox, all in the Colton building. Also faculty members are Mesdames O'Gorman and Phelps in the South Colton building and Mrs. Lila Waite teaching in the Sellecks School. Mrs. Dorothy Clough is school nurse.

The cafeteria is administered by Miss Anne O'Gorman, Mrs. Laura Collins and Mrs. Helen Shea; custodians are Harold Cayce and Morris McEwen; bus drivers are Morris Trim, Joseph Green, Stanley Lindsay, Morris McEwen and Buster Saucier.

Addresses Chemists

Frank Ryan, Ottawa, will speak to members and guests of the American Chemical Society this evening at 7:45 p. m. in Hepburn Hall on the St. Lawrence University Campus in Canton. His topic will relate to the chemical aspects of modern scientific farming.

Mr. Ryan is well known in this area for his daily radio program, "The Farmer's Notebook," broadcast at 12:15 p. m. over CFRA, Ottawa. His active interest in Holstein cattle and in effective progressive agriculture make him a well-known figure in eastern Canada and northern New York State.

Of particular interest is Mr. Ryan's work with Canadian groups on chemical nutrition, the soil-less growth of plants, for out of this work in the last few years has come valuable information on

Ex-PSTC Teacher Wins Music Prize

Ithaca — The Friends of Music Society at Cornell has announced the student winners of two new prizes for musical composition and performance. The $50 prizes were established this year by an anonymous member of the society.

A prize for the best student composition of the academic year went to Cameron McGraw of Cortland, a graduate student and formerly a Potsdam State Teachers College instructor for his "String Quartet." The composition was played at Cornell on Apr. 20 in a recital of student works.

Miss Joanne Patricia Muenschler, Ithaca, a junior, received the prize for the best undergraduate performance of the year for her interpretation of Mach's "Organ Sonata No. 1 in E flat Major" in a concert on May 4 in Sage Chapel.

The committee awarding the prizes is made up of faculty members from the Cornell music department. They were assisted by Gilbert Weeks, composer and chairman of the executive committee of the Friends of Music, and Dr. Conrad Rawski, professor of musicology and director of graduate studies at Ithaca College.

McGraw, a graduate assistant at Cornell, has also taught at Suffolk Academy, the Judson School in Phoenix, Ariz. He has been music director of the Halpern-Lathrop Studio Theatre Group in New York and San Francisco. After receiving an A.B. degree cum laude from Middlebury College, he spent a year there as a graduate assistant. He is a son of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. McGraw, 60 Church St., Cortland, and a graduate of Cortland High School.

Christian Scientist Lectures Tomorrow

Gouverneur — Theodore Wallach, C.S., Chicago, Ill., will give a free lecture entitled "Christian Science: The Availability of Unlimited Good," at the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Gouverneur on Sunday evening, May 23. The lecture begins at 8:15 p. m.

Mr. Wallach is a member of the board of lectureship of The Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass.

The meeting will be preceded by a dinner in the hall of the Universalist Church in Canton at 6:30 p. m.

Meeting of WSCS For May Held in Home at Cedarville

Buckton — Woman's Society of Christian Service held a May meeting at the home of Mrs. Grace A. Scott, Cedarville. Meeting was called to order by Mrs. Fannie Waldruff, president. Mrs. Mildred Jenkins led the devotions, and Mrs. Vera Foster gave a reading.

The next meeting will be held June 12 at the home of Mrs. George Martin assisted by Mrs. Mildred Jenkins, Oliver Parr and Ledo Phillips.

The society voted to purchase two plants to be given on Mother's Day. Mrs. Harold Elliott received the first as oldest mother present in church, and Mrs. Lawrence Wagstaff as mother with largest family present.

Officers elected were president, Mrs. Fannie Waldruff; vice-president, Mrs. Rhoda Elliott; recording secretary, Mrs. Dora Tugrey; promotion secretary, Mrs. Gayle Kent; treasurer, Mrs. Louise Jenkins; secretary of Christian social relations and local church activities, Mrs. Louise Weller; secretary of literature and publications, Mrs. Alberta Dunbar; missionary secretary, Mrs. Doris Martin; secretary of spiritual life, Mrs. Pearl Green, and secretary of supplies, Mrs. Mildred Jenkins.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Vera Foster and Alberta Dunbar.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waldruff with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Waldruff of Louisville, were called to Detroit, Mich. Saturday by the death of their sister, Mrs. Alfred (Mabel) Myers. Funeral services were held Monday.

Mrs. Ella Waldruff, a guest in the Meyers home for the past winter, returned home to Louisville with her sons and daughters-in-law Wednesday.

Charles Waldruff Jr., Cranberry Lake, attended to the chores and spring work on the farm during his parent's absence.

Miss Eleanor Richards returned to Watertown Monday to resume studies as a student nurse at Mercy Hospital. Miss Richards spent the weekend with her family, Mrs. Mary Smith, Teresa Violet, William and Russell. Miss Richards also visited another sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jessmer and sons, Homer 3d and Steven.

Members of the junior and primary classes of Sunday school met with Mrs. Harold Elliott and Mrs. Vera Foster in the Charles Waldruff home Thursday evening. The classes practiced for the Children's Day exercises to be held at Buckton Methodist Church Sunday, June 8.

Mrs. Grace A. Scott, a patient at Potsdam Hospital, is recovering from injuries received in a car accident.

The car, driven by her stepson, Milan Scott, was struck on the Norwood-Potsdam road by a car approaching from a side road, driven by Mort Lewin, Pleasant Valley.

Mr. Lewin was arrested on a charge of drunken driving and held for $100 bond. The Scott car was badly damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jenkins, Miss Lucille Jenkins and Mrs. Grace Jenkins attended morning worship services at Brookdale Wesleyan Methodist Church. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jenkins of Norfolk Sunday evening.

Sunday callers at the home of Mrs. Ella Hoyt were Mr. Benjamin Foster and son, Myron, of West Stockholm, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, Southville and Mrs. Edmond C. Jenkins.

Miss Marilyn Elliott won a blue ribbon for her demonstration on how to freeze a hen to roast at the district 4-H meeting in Lovville Monday. Miss Elliott plans to give her demonstration at the sub-district meeting of the Dairymen's League to be held at Winthrop Grange Hall Saturday, May 24.

Wives Get Ph.T's— Put Hubby Through

For helping their husbands to complete their education, 87 wives of Clarkson College students who will be graduated on June 1 were awarded special certificates Monday afternoon by Dr. William G. Van Note, president.

The presentations were made at a public convocation at 3:00 p. m. at the civic center auditorium. The certificates giving recognition to the wives read: "Be it known that (name) is awarded this certificate for Meritorious service by the Thomas S. Clarkson Memorial College of Technology in recognition and appreciation of the assistance she has rendered her husband in the completion of his program of higher education. By her encouragement, cooperation, understanding, and industry she has demonstrated that she too is 'A Workman that Needeth Not to Be Ashamed.'"

This was the third consecutive year that these certificates of achievement have been awarded to each senior's wife.

Following the formal presentation, there was a tea in the civic center lounge. Hostesses were Mrs. Van Note; Mrs. William J. Farrisee, wife of the dean of the college; Mrs. Lowell W. Herron, wife of the dean of the faculty; and Mrs. Lynn L. Merrill, wife of the director of graduate study and chairman of the engineering division.

Harold C. Jebo, housing supervisor, arranged the afternoon affairs.

$3.95 a Cwt. May Milk Price

New York — A uniform price of $3.95 per hundredweight will be paid to dairy farmers for their May deliveries to pool-approved plants in the six-state New York milkshed, according to a forecast released this week by Dr. C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

He estimated at the same time that the producer butterfat differential for May would be 6.4 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 percent standard.

Dr. Blanford said the forecast is based on a production estimate of 766 million pounds for the month. This would mean an average daily output of 500 pounds by each of the estimated 49,400 producers in the milkshed.

Handlers must submit reports to the administrator on the use made of their milk receipts for May not later than June 10. Using these reports, the Administrator will compute and announce the actual uniform price and butterfat differential for May not later than June 14. Handlers must then make payments to their producers not later than June 25.
