

Indians Set to Face Waddington On Friday -- If Rain Stays Away

Of Jute Pluvius willing, Potsdam's Indians will begin their St. Lawrence Valley League wars Friday afternoon at Waddington in a game previously scheduled for May 18, but rained out.

The Redman still are yet to play a ball game this year. Al Duprey, who with Andy Johnson manages the ball team, said the following players will be ready for action when the ump yells "Play ball": Peanut Sellers, Dave Garner, Bud Bouck, Minnie Bahich, Junior Burwell, Walt and Ivan Duprey, Stan Moore and Bob McManus.

In the only game played in the league last week, Russell downed Cornwall, 9-3, in the western division under the lights in the Ontario town Friday night. All Sunday games were rained out.

At Cornwall, Russell had little trouble in defeating the newly entered team with errors playing an important part in Cornwall's defeat. Russell managed to score three runs in the third, and two runs in the fourth inning to do most of the scoring.

While Cornwall gathered lone runs in the sixth and ninth innings, each team gathered eight hits but the big margin was in errors—Cornwall had six, to Russell's two.

Cornwall's pitcher Coons did a masterful job in limiting Russell. Carl Sleeman also pitched, striking out 14.

In the hitting department it was Pete Matzkech leading Russell getting two for three including a homerun. Lauzon collected two for two for Cornwall, including a double.

PHS Tips Malone, 3-1, as Leon Perry Fans 17 Batters

Behind one-hit pitching by lanky Leon Perry, Potsdam High School took a 3-1 victory from Malone Friday on the Malone High home diamond. Perry, armed with masterful control which allowed him to strike out 17 Malone batsmen, also garnered two of the Sandstoners' seven hits for the standard Northern New York League seven-inning contest.

Brooks was the losing pitcher, although his team played errorless ball. Potsdam committed three misplays.

Tom Covell also got two hits for Coach Ray Harrington's Orange and Blue team. One of them was a double in the final inning which started off a two-run rally that out the contest on ice.

The deciding Sandstone runs developed in the top of the seventh as Covell doubled and Hubie Rogers singled to score him. Pat Murphy walked, Al Reasoner flied out and Don Donah scored Rogers when the play to the plate on his fielder's choice failed.

Four men faced Perry in the last of the seventh. He fanned three and allowed a single.

The game subsided in a pitchers' duel throughout the better part of six innings with Brooks trying to prevent Malone's lone run that the home club scored in their half of the first.

The run came after Bodway reached first on Art Travis' error and finally stole home.

Potsdam tied up the tilt in the sixth when Leon Perry singled with Bill Flicke on second and two men out.

Sandstoners Topple Canton High, 4-2, in Loop Match Tuesday

Playing their first game on the home diamond in over a week, Potsdam High's nine put down the Golden Bears of Canton Tuesday afternoon, 4-2, although they collected but two hits to the Canton team's four.

Leon Perry broke into the win column for the Orange and the Blue. He fanned eight Canton batters and allowed only one hit—a double—bigger than a single.

Going into the lost of the third, Canton led 2-1, but a three-marker third inning settled the outcome in favor of Coach Ray Harrington's club.

Canton got the contest underway in the first by scoring first blood. Brundage, the Bears' pitcher, singled as the second man up.

Stone reached first on a first-base error and Perry walked two men to score Brundage. But two strikeouts ended the inning right away.

Potsdam retaliated when they got their bats. Al Reasoner scored with the aid of a pair of Canton misplays. Canton scored again in the second when Davis singled and was scored by Brundage's base hit.

The third brought the last runs of the ballgame, three big ones for the locals that sank the visiting Bears.

Murphy led off by reaching first on the shortstop's bobble of his infield tap. Reasoner sacrificed him to second. Dale Sherburne got on second as the fielder's choice play on Murphy at the plate was unsuccessful. The chunky Sherburne took off for home as Hubie Bancroft dropped a Texas Leagueer into center. He reached home about the same time as the throw from the outfield and scored, leaving Canton catcher Howard, who had attempted to block the plate, sprawled in the dust looking for his breath and the ball he dropped when Sherburne ran over him.

Streaks Across for Game's 1st Tally

Hank Sharlup of Cornell scores Cornell's first run in the third inning of Friday's game as Peanut Sellers of Clarkson reaches for a ball that didn't get there in time.

Cornell Edges Out Tech, 3-2, as Late Rally Falls Apart

Cornell's Big Red ball team, beaten in early season by Clarkson, bounced back Friday afternoon on Snell Field to edge out the locals, 3-2.

Stan Mroczkowski allowed the visitors six hits and Dick Parker, on the mound for Cornell, allowed the same number, but they didn't cost as much. Tech trailed throughout the whole game. The Engineers two-run rally in the last of the ninth failed to overcome the three-run Cornell score.

Clarkson threatened in the first inning when Moore led off with a single and Franko doubled. Cornell Catcher Eberhardt caught Moore off third and Palozzi and Rohl left Franko on second.

First sacker Sharlup started the Big Red scoring when he doubled, was sacrificed to third by Jacobs and scored on a fielder's choice. In the fourth, Mroczkowski strained his back when he fielded Gowen's grounder. The next batter, Hostage, was hit by the first pitch, stole second and advanced to third on throwing error on Sellers. Hostage scored Cornell's second run on a wild pitch.

er, led off the fourth with a hard double to left center. He advanced to third when Zolner grounded out but was left stranded as Sellers popped out and Schulenberg grounded to short.

In the seventh, Cornell scored what proved to be the winning run when pitcher Parker walked, advanced to second when Jacobs walked and scored on a single by Chadwick. Cornell threatened in the eighth when Charlup singled and advanced to third as Franco erred on Parker's grounder. Jacobs grounded out to end the threat.

Clarkson broke into the scoring column in the last of the ninth when Rohl reached base on an error by center fielder Hostage. Christian, batting for Zolner, singled to put men on first and second, Smith, batting for Sellers, grounded out, advanced the runners. Schulenberg grounded out scoring one run. Manz, batting for Rupprecht, reached base on an error by Second Baseman Morton,

Makeup Games Remain for PHS

Potsdam High School still has two games to make up in Northern New York League competition. One of them, against Norwood-Norfolk will be played on Monday at the Leroy St. diamond. This match was rained out May 20.

The other, against Saranac Lake, will be played here on Thursday, June 5. Game time is 4 p. m.

On Friday, Coach Ray Harrington's Sandstoners journey to Ogdensburg to face St. Mary's Academy. Next Tuesday the locals play Watertown on the high school diamond.

Hodgemen Point At SLU Game

Clarkson College will play its last game of the year on Snell Field Saturday when Coach Hank Hodge's charges face invading St. Lawrence University before a commencement weekend crowd of students, alumni and parents. Game time is 1:30 p. m.

The Larries opened their season with difficulties, losing four of their first five games. But a win over Champlain on Saturday last gave the SLU nine a five-straight winning streak.

Hodge will draw a starting pitcher from one of his two letterman moundsmen, Bill Chamberlain and Stan Mroczkowski. Other possible men on the pitcher's rubber are Bill Byzewski and Don Smith.

Behind the plate will be Peanut Sellers. Infielders will include hard-hitting George Franko, Sam Zolner, Larry Rupprecht and Norbie Schulenberg.

In the garden patch will be Stan Moore, Dom Palozzi and Bucky Rohl.

Teachers End Year With Weekend Tilts

Coach Sam Molnar's Potsdam State Teachers College diamondmen will wind up their season this year with games Friday and Saturday against Champlain College and Genesee State Teachers College on the high school field, Leroy St.
