June Milk Price To Be $4.80

New York — The June price of fluid milk (Class 1-A) produced for the New York metropolitan milk marketing area will be $4.80 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts), it was announced this week by C. J. Blanford, market administrator. The price for May was $4.82 per hundredweight. In June, 1951, it was $5.06 per hundredweight.

Dr. Blanford pointed out that dairy farmers are never paid the class 1-A price. Handlers pay that price to the New York pool for the milk they use in that category. In turn, dairy farmers are paid a uniform price which is determined by the use made of all milk received at country plants approved for the New York marketing area.

The class 1-A price is determined monthly by a formula which considers general economic conditions as shown in the index of wholesale commodity prices published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics; milk supply and demand factors; and seasonality.

Proud of its history, the beautiful Mohawk Valley is also proud of its modern farms and industries—supplied with cheap, plentiful electricity by Niagara Mohawk. This unified system serves a 21,000 square mile Upstate area!

ON YOUR MARK, GET SET... GO! Speed is mighty important in the kitchen... whether you want to cook a whole dinner or just boil a few eggs. You can cook a tastier meal in record time with a modern electric range—and do it economically, too, with low-cost Niagara Mohawk electricity. While the price of everything else has gone up, up, up, Niagara Mohawk electricity remains one of the biggest bargains you can buy.
