POTSDAM HIGHLIGHTS

by JUDY LOWE

All PHS students should take advantage of tomorrow since it is the last day of rest before exams. Because of Memorial Day the doors of school will be closed. No matter how hard we try, we won't be able to get in.

The band will get all decked out in their blue and orange uniforms and instruments for the parade which starts at 9:30. Starting at the civic center, the line of march will follow its usual path up Leroy, across Cottage, down Market, and up either Elm or Main.

I'm sure that no one will raise any complaint about this week's schedule. With class day this afternoon, Thursday, and no school at all tomorrow we will have had only three and a half days of bending our nose to the grindstone. At 1:15 this afternoon everyone one will go to the auditorium for the annual class day sponsored by the senior class. At this time each class will present a skit and athletic and scholastic awards will be distributed. A big moment for the juniors is their promotion to the balcony as next year's seniors. It is traditional for every senior class to sit in the balcony at any assemblies or meetings during school. After the activities indoors the scene of action will shift outside where the championship softball game for the little brown jug will be held, that is, weather permitting.

That weatherman has sure made a liar out of me. Both the Saranac and Norwood - Norfolk baseball games are as yet unplayed because of rain. Last Friday though the team went to Malone and defeated them 3-1. This game was the first in almost two weeks. A game here with Canton was scheduled for last Tuesday. Friday they go to St. Mary's in Ogdensburg. Potsdam is bye next Tuesday. Believe it or not, the game tomorrow is the last regularly scheduled one of the season.

Last Saturday's track meet at Ogdensburg ended in another defeat for us. Our boys took only one first. A number of the members of the team have the measles. It seems to be the fat lately to have the measles. Tupper Lake comes to Potsdam next Monday for the last league meet. The following Saturday, June 7, the Van Dusen will be held in Ogdensburg. This meet is individual competition instead of by teams.

I slipped up on mentioning the exhibit in last week's column. It was last Tuesday evening. The band and chorus each gave a short concert and art and sewing exhibits filled the gym.

Every Saturday Mrs. Merriman holds French II and III review classes for those students who plan to take regents. As though five days of school weren't enough she gives still another to the students.

Some strange faces were seen in the halls on Monday. Six of our freshmen including Ann Sullivan, Bob Putnam, Mary Ellen Stevenson, David Satterlee, Peter Spurbek, and Cathy Speer, were acting as hosts to six eighth graders from the Congdon School. They attended regular classes and study halls with them. Marilyn Goodspeed, Larry Brown, Lynn Thatcher, Neil McKenna, Wanda Carter, and Carol McMonagle represented the three eighth grade classes. Tuesday these six freshmen went to the Campus school and told them about their experiences in their first year. This is the fourth year that this guidance plan has been carried out.

Dedicate Yearbook To Dr. C. H. Hecker

In appreciation of his service to Clarkson College, the editors of the 1952 Clarksonian have dedicated the yearbook to Dr. Charles H. Hecker, chairman of the chemistry and chemical engineering departments. Karl Geoca, editor-in-chief, presented Dr. Hecker with the first copy of the yearbook in a surprise ceremony during moving-up day exercises last week.

The dedication in the book reads as follows:

"Dr. Charles H. Hecker first came to Clarkson in 1929 to accept a position as professor of chemical engineering. Since that time he has become head of the chemistry and chemical engineering department and served in that capacity for over a decade. He was on hand to guide the department in its growth from a handful of students to its present size and to assume a major role in leading Clarkson through its expansion and building program. Dr. Hecker
