MIKE KNAPP ... on the sidelines

Greetings From Beantown

Boston, Mass. — Walk through the lobbies and meeting rooms of Boston's famed Kenmore Hotel any time of the day or night and you're sure to spot a sports figure or personality chatting with an old friend or waiting for a taxi to whisk him off to the airport.

You know, Boston is quite a sports city. My home is in Cleveland, Ohio and I have spent a good deal of time in Syracuse, and it is interesting to compare these great metropolitan centers to Boston. To begin with, Boston has just about every sport imaginable in both the pro and collegiate ranks.

On the pro side of the ledger, the Bostonians have the Bruins, and apparently there's not too much to be proud of this season. However, on the collegiate level, Boston boasts periodically three of the finest teams in the East, Harvard, Boston College, and Boston University.

Yes, Boston is a great sports town and the Kenmore is in the center of all activity and very well located for this purpose. Some guests can look from their window and see Fenway Park, which is right around the corner. The Boston Arena (where E.U. games are played) is only a couple of blocks away, and the other college facilities are located within a few blocks.

THE NEWSPAPER SITUATION One of the more amazing things about this great city is its unusual situation in regards to newspapers. Most major cities (even New York) have gotten to the point where there are several papers serving the area and that's it. In many places there is one, and at the most, two papers in the morning and two in the afternoon.

Speaking of the press, there's little doubt this year that Clarkson's in town! Quite a difference when you arrive undefeated and with a record which is almost unbelievable. The headlines (as such) blare out the news and tonight's battle is being billed as "one of the most important of the season."

Some people may wonder just what the routine of the team is when on a trip such as this. Well, they left Potsdam around 7 a.m. Wednesday and arrived here late that afternoon. After checking into the hotel, they ate supper at one of the nearby restaurants, which is a favorite with the team.

AN EARLY SUPPER Around mid-afternoon or so the team will gather for an early supper so that everything can be digested by gametime. Then it will be back to the rooms for more rest and probably around 7, they will board the bus for the short ride to Harvard's Arena.

Tomorrow night the hockey men will do a little scouting of their own. St. Lawrence is also in town this week (an unusual situation, as both are usually not here at the same time.) The Tech team will attend the Boston University-St. Lawrence game Friday night and then head out early Saturday for Troy and the big game with R.P.I. Well, it's all very exciting and worthwhile, but all we can do now is wait, and even though they can't read the Courier and Freeman here today — GOOD LUCK!

Incidentally, while I am here I plan to visit the M.I.T. campus and have a talk with the Sports Information Director there. M.I.T. makes a Canadian and Northern New York swing in February and the basketball team and wrestling squad will be at Alumni Memorial Gym on Feb. 3, Ice Carnival Weekend.

Speaking of the wrestling team, everyone certainly was proud of Clarkson's stunning victory over Colgate on the mats last Saturday. It was the first time since 1953 that Clarkson has beaten Colgate in wrestling and was indicative of the fine squad which Jack Hantz will have this year.

I mention Clarkson specifically here because their December sports season is short because of Christmas vacation. However, it goes without saying that all the sports teams in the Potsdam area need your support. State College basketball, Potsdam High hockey, basketball, and wrestling, and all the rest. It's true that these youngsters play for the love of it and that these programs are carried out by the institutions as part of the "educational process".

PCS Skaters To Open Tonight

"This team has been the best in the state for the past three years, and has no intentions of relinquishing that lofty position." These were the battling words of Potsdam High Hockey Coach Jack Porter, as the colorful line last year which scored a total of 42 goals in 13 games, and was considered the best high school line in hockey in the nation.

Also gone from the squad are Marshall Stevenson, the best all-around defenseman on the team, and, according to Porter, the most underrated in the league, and Conrad Steiner, the third highest scorer on the squad.

Despite these costly losses, Porter still has a wealth of material to work with. He has both returned here last Tuesday to perform very well against the Clarkson freshman team. Also gone is Jack Lakin, who is now playing Junior "B" hockey in Canada.

Porter, a man who doesn't mince words, has his own evaluation of the Potsdam team for this season. "The defense is pretty well set with Bill Martin in goal and Dave Snyder and Tony Rische as one defensive pair. I look for Martin to establish himself as the best in the league this year. Snyder, this year's captain, and Rische are big fellows, who like to hit and will keep going forwards honest. Tom Long, who looks real good so far, and Alan Lindsey, another huggie type, will alternate the other defensive posts.

Porter said. The fact that Porter will have a rebuilding job to do is evident from the material he has left last season. Riggs, who Porter terms as "the best high school hockey player in the country" is now at Colgate University along with Dave Healey, and

In a thrilling and well-played contest, the Clarkson Tech freshmen hockey squad racked up its third consecutive win in a row by defeating a stubborn Colgate University frosh sextet 4-4 here Tuesday afternoon in Clarkson's arena.

A crowd of nearly 500 persons came to watch one of the finest freshman hockey tilts to be held here in some time, as two local residents, former Potsdam High hockey stars, figured prominently in Colgate's fine showing. Steve Riggs and Bill Healey both tallied a goal for the young Maroon, and Riggs also had an assist.

It was a see-saw affair in which Colgate tied the score twice before Clarkson pulled away late in the second period. John Morrill and Gary Bray led the Clarkson yearlings with two goals apiece. Dave Neilson tallied twice for the losers.

Gouverneur High School topped the Sandstone wrestlers from Potsdam High School last Saturday in an opening match for the Northern League 1961-'62 season. Potsdam won only two varsity matches. The score in the varsity match was Gouverneur 30 and Potsdam 6, while the jayvee contest was Gouverneur's by 36-10.

Dare Fefee decided Conklin of Gouverneur in a 120-lb. match, 8-3, and George Jerome decided Hans of Gouverneur by 6-5 in a 138-lb. match. In the jayvee competition, Sandstone Dave Burkett pinned Pitts of Gouverneur in the second period, and Gary Wheeler pinned Weldon in the third period.

Coach Joseph Ivers of the Potsdam team said this week that the grapplers were rounding into shape for what could be a fairly successful season. He said he hopes the sports fans in the area show some support for the team.

In other Northern League action last Saturday, Watertown High lost to Massena. This Friday, Gouverneur is at Watertown, and on Saturday, Potsdam hosts OPA while Canton hosts Massena. The contests here Saturday get underway at 1:30 p.m.
