Services Held Sunday For Delia Sackett

Funeral services for Mrs. Delia Sackett, 70, Eben-Crory Mills Road, were held Sunday at 2 p. m. from the O'Leary Funeral Home with the Rev. Jack M. Wells, Presbyterian Church minister, officiating. Burial was in Bayside Cemetery.

Mrs. Sackett died Friday night enroute to Syracuse in the O'Leary ambulance. She had earlier been admitted to the E. J. Noble Hospital suffering from first degree burns to 100 percent of her body. It was reported that a bottled gas stove had exploded in her home and ignited the woman's clothing. She was found by her son Hubert when he returned to the house after working in the farm fields.

Potsdam on Oct. 23, 1892 and was a daughter of Edwin and Elvan Gibson Clark. She spent most of her life in the Potsdam area and was a graduate of the old Normal School.

In 1917 she married the late George Sackett and the couple made their home on the Eben-Crory Mills Road where they operated a farm. Mr. Sackett died in 1943.
