SHIRT SHOPPING

A man's appearance is judged partly by the neatness, freshness, and fit of his shirt. Extension leaflet 33, "Shopping for Shirts" includes helpful information. New York State residents may order a free, single copy from the Mailing Room, Stone Hall, Cornell Univ., Ithaca, N. Y.

Forest Owners Plan Session

A "conservation cafeteria" will be served to those attending the annual meeting of the New York Forest Owners Association Apr. 25, at the State University College of Forestry at Syracuse University. Instead of the usual cafeteria, there will be 15 tables or stations where the public can pick up free advice and literature on conservation subjects.

This was announced by Theodore T. Buckley, Washington County sheriff, president of the association, as part of his invitation to the public to attend this outstanding meeting. State, federal and private conservation agencies will be represented, including the College of Forestry; the College of Agriculture at Cornell; the state divisions of forest management and nurseries, fish and game, and conservation education; the U. S. Soil Conservation Service; and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Services.

Also: New York State Christmas Tree Growers Association; and New York Forest Industries Committee, sponsoring Tree Farms and "Keep New York Green" programs.

Featured will be a discussion of timely importance — "Better Results In Tree Growing," which will be led by Dr. C. Eugene Farnsworth, chairman, department of silviculture, College of Forestry. The discussion will cover planting trees, the importance of soils to tree growing, and current genetic improvement studies — subjects of special interest to persons planting trees this spring.

The "conservation cafeteria" will be set up in the student lounge of Marshall Hall, and the rest of the all-day session will be held in that building, according to Prof. Floyd E. Carlson, secretary of the association. The program will begin at 9 a.

Learn Social Security Facts

"Many folks think the only reason they should write or call the social security office is to claim payments," remarked John P. Moulton, social security district manager in Ogdensburg, in an interview yesterday.

"The truth is," he continued, "everyone should know first what payments can be made and when to claim them. This is just as important in planning for the future as are health and life insurance."

Thoughful people now ask, ahead of time, about old-age, survivors, and disability payments from social security. They pass on the information to their dependents because they realize that the social security taxes they pay are building protection for the future.

"While it isn't always convenient for busy people to take time away from work for a visit to the office," Moulton said, "there are many ways to get information about social security.

Free booklets are available on request. These give general information about social security, facts about disability payments, help for self-employed businessmen and farmers, and much more. Also, questions can be answered over the telephone and by mail."

The public is invited to make use of the facilities of the district office. "Our most important job is to help the folks in the Ogdensburg area keep up with their social security," he said. The Ogdensburg serves all of St. Lawrence County. The phone No. is 393-0880.

Dr. Gianelli Spoke On Criminal Behavior

Dr. A. Steven Giannell, associate professor of psychology at The State University College at Potsdam and a specialist in criminal psychology, spoke last week at a meeting of the New York State Probation Administrators in Utica.

Dr. Giannell described his theory of criminal causation, "The Psychosynthesis of Criminal Behavior," and its implications for the prevention and treatment of delinquency and crime.

Farm Milk Price $4.10 For March

A uniform farm price of $4.10 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) will be paid for March milk deliveries to pool handlers in the New York-New Jersey milkshed, Dr. A. J. Pollard, associate market administrator has announced. The February price was $4.28 per hundredweight; the March 1963, price was $3.95.

The producer butterfat differential was set at 5.6 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5% standard.

In announcing the pricing, Dr. Pollard reported that receipts from producers increased by 5,410,061 pounds from March, 1963, while consumption of fluid milk rose 6,195,082 pounds.

Receipts totaled 1,057,681 pounds in March, compared to 1,052,002,620 pounds a year ago. This was a gain of less than one percent. Fluid milk sales amounted to 483,127,251 pounds this year, 1.3% more than the 476,932,169 pounds a year ago.

Fluid milk sales accounted for 45.7% of the March pool, compared to 45.3% in March, 1963. The price handlers paid for fluid milk in the 201-210 mile zone this year was $5.33 per hundredweight.

The 42,377 producers in the pool this year numbered 2,285 fewer than the 44,662 last year, Dr. Pollard said, and the 314 handlers represented a decline of 23.

Average deliveries per day per dairy amounted to 805 pounds in March, 45 pounds less than the March, 1963 average of 760 pounds.

There were three fewer pool bulk tank units than last year, Dr. Pollard pointed out, but the number of bulk tank farms rose by 172 and the amount of bulk tank milk was up by 19,614,726 pounds.

A total of 377,510,162 pounds of milk was received from 9,301 bulk dairy farmers in 301 units in March. The 9,129 bulk dairymen a year ago delivered 357,895,436 pounds of milk to the pool.

Bulk tank receipts comprised 35.7% of the March pool, compared to 34% a year ago.

The farm value of the March production, which, Dr. Pollard explained, does not include all the differentials paid to dairy farmers, was $44,769,005.66.

The uniform farm price of $4.10 per hundredweight will be paid for milk testing 3.5% butterfat and received within 201-210 miles from New York City.

Commercial & Sandstone Leagues Schedule Feasts

By Dean Latimer

Finishing up the '63 - '64 season with a final banquet, the Commercial and Sandstone Leagues have engaged Fiacco's Restaurant for alternate Wednesdays. Next week, Apr. 29, will find the Commercial League toasting one another over the tables, and the Sandstoners will discuss the past season at the same place on May 5. As the kegling year draws to a close in this area, prospective banquet settings will be announced in this column.

The first night for the Norfolk Wednesday early league found Spencer's Oil as league champs, with Butler's and Plum's Mobil Service tied for second place. Fraser's TV nailed down third place, Norfolk Furniture took fourth, Lavigne's Hotel grabbed fifth, Crabb's landed sixth, and Ruth's Beauty Shop came in seventh.

Individually, Gloria Gately and Irene LaBarge were high for the night, Gloria in the singles with a 192 and Irene took top triple with 509. In team competition, Butler's was at the top in both events, scattering the maples for a 908 single with handicap, and 816 scratch. High handicap triple score went to Butler's with 2561, along with a scratch triple score of 2285.

In the Markettes League, June Davis downed 203 for high single score, and Phyllis Schimmel took top triple spot with 493. In team competition, Jolly's Market took high single with 861, and the 11-B Inn rolled 2463 for high triple.

The women's handicap division of the Monday Night Summer League will meet Monday, May 11 at Market Lanes to map out plans for the summer season at their first organizational meeting.

Kinney Drug Firm Receives Brand Name Certificate

A Certificate-of-Distinction has been awarded to B. O. Kinney, Inc., of Gouverneur, in the Brand Name Retailer-of-the-Year Awards Competition in the Drug Stores, Class 1 category. The award was presented by Brand Names Foundation, sponsors of the annual competition, at a luncheon held in the Imperial Ballroom of the American Hotel, New York City.

Gordon J. McPherson, advertising manager of the firm since 1959, accepted the award for the 13-store chain.

Growth of the B. O. Kinney enterprises began in 1903 when the founder purchased the drug business of G. L. Van Namee in Gouverneur. In 1918 he was joined by his son, Harold and together they began to expand in 1928 when they opened their second store. It is said that the tempo of expansion has increased since the war with the addition of five stores.

Store No. 13 opened last fall in Watertown's Northland Plaza. Kinney is one of the first 50 druggists in the country to accept the Rexall franchise, which is associated with all 13 stores. The chain has been recipient of the Rexall Honor Stores Trophy and prescription plaques from pharmaceutical manfacturers.

90 Years Old

"B. O." as he is affectionately known, celebrated his 90th birthday Sept. 12, and still spends many hours a day doing what he enjoys most, waiting on his customers and friends at the headquarters store.

"Professional pharmacy is our most important and fastest growing area. With it we have a wide selection of quality merchandise at fair prices. These points sum up our operating policy," stated Kinney at the 60th anniversary of Kinney, Inc. last fall. "Naturally we are pleased and honored to receive a Certificate-of-Distinction in the 1963 Brand Names Retailer - of-the - Year competition," he commented upon being notified of his firm's garnering the much-coveted award.

Awards in this sixteenth annual Competition were given to 120 firms in 23 categories of retailing, representing 34 of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and Canada.

Representatives of the winning firms were presented their awards by executives of last year's winning firms, who madeup the Judging Panel in this year's Competition, at a gala Brand Name Retailer-of-the-Year Awards Luncheon, held in the Imperial Ballroom of the Americana Hotel.

Gala Events

During the two-day celebration which began on Apr. 7, the winning merchants and their wives were guests of honor at luncheons and receptions hosted by members of the Foundation. They were also guests of their own local advertising media at a cocktail party, held at the Rainbow Cocktail Lounge, Rockefeller Center.

The winners attended meetings and seminars throughout the two days to discuss and help formulate plans for the industry-wide programs of the Foundation during the coming year.

Their wives were taken on a city-wide tour that included the United Nations, and the National Design Center, featuring room settings by New York's best-known interior designers.

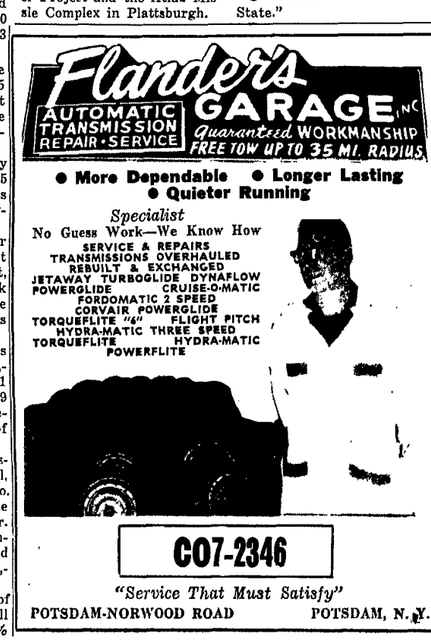
The climax of the two days was the Brand Names Foundation's Annual banquet on Wednesday evening, which was also held in the Imperial Ballroom of the Americana. The banquet ended with entertainment, provided in honor of the occasion by the Columbia Broadcasting System, starring Marty Allen & Steve Rossi, The Mattison Trio, and Leslie Uggams with music by The Ray Block Orchestra.

County Farm Bureau To Hold Rural-Urban Fete

The St. Lawrence County Farm Bureau Women will hold a Rural - Urban dinner on Thursday night, Apr. 30, in the Fellowship Room of the Presbyterian Church at Canton, according to an announcement by Mrs. James W. Fife, Rd 1, Madrid, chairman of the County Women's Committee.

Mrs. Donald Tuthill of West Branch, New York, chairman of the State Farm Bureau Women's Committee, will be the Speaker. This special event for all Farm Bureau women in the county and their urban guests will start with a covered dish dinner at 7 p. m.

"Each year during the month of April, Farm Bureau women, statewide, hold Rural-Urban events in their respective counties", Mrs. Fife said. "These meetings help to promote understanding of the work being done by women's organizations in New York State."

NEW YORK CHEESE


St. Lawrence, Jefferson, Lewis, Franklin, and Allegany counties accounted for the great bulk of the cheese produced in New York State last year.
