Hospital Expansion Report

'Hospital Careers Day' Slated Here On May 15

In recognition of National Hospital Week, which is being observed May 11 through May 17, the Potsdam Hospital has scheduled a "Hospital Careers Day" to be conducted on Friday, May 15 in the gymnasium of the Potsdam Senior High School, commencing at 1:30 p.m.

The Hospital will serve as host to high school students from the following area high schools, as well as Potsdam High School: St. Lawrence Central School, Brasher Falls; Colton - Pierrepont Central School, Colton; Madrid-Waddington Central School, Madrid; Norwood-Norfolk Central School, Norwood; Parishville-Hopkinton Central School, Parishville.

The students attending, who have shown an interest in medical careers, will be shown a film depicting many occupational aspects of the medical profession and will then have an opportunity to view displays and to meet personally with representatives from each of the individual fields of endeavor. During these interviews, students will be encouraged to ask questions regarding the specific training they should pursue and the available opportunities in each field.

Among the occupations represented will be Nursing, both professional and practical, Occupational Therapist, Medicine, Physical Therapist, Medical Technician, Dietician, Medical Librarian, Hospital Administrator and Social Worker.

James B. Clemens, director of the Potsdam Hospital, expressed the desire that all students interested in attending the program contact their school Guidance Directors. "The overall field of medicine," Clemens noted, "is one of the fastest growing and perhaps the most rewarding of all careers. We sincerely hope that many of the students attending this special 'Career Day' program will decide to pursue one of the specific occupations and may very well return one day to serve at the Potsdam Hospital."

Guild To Give Food Carts

Mrs. Morton Winters announced Saturday at the Annual Hospital Guild luncheon meeting that the Guild's $3500 pledge for 1964 to the Hospital Building Fund will be used for two new heated food carts. The Guild's total pledge to the Building Fund is $20,000. $2500.00 has been given toward a Pediatrics Ward and $3500.00 toward the Gift Shop.

Money raised during the year came from the following sources: TV rentals, Christmas Bazaar and Tea, Bridge Tournament, Gift Shop, Coffee machine, dues, and a $500 gift from Mrs. Ruby Maxfield for the Building Fund. Plans are progressing for the "Flea Market" being held on Saturday, May 2", at the Clarkson Arena.

The "Rahnsingers", a singing group under the direction of Mrs. Ragnhild Stillman, provided a most enjoyable program.

Guests at the luncheon included. Mrs. Dorothy Elliott, director of nurses; James Clemens, director of the hospital; F.T.E. Sisson, president of the Hospital Board; Charles VanVleet, assistant director of the Hospital.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for the coming year: Mrs. George Garner, president; Mrs. Margaret MacIntire, vice-president; Mrs. David Palmer, secretary; Mrs. Edward Prescott treasurer.

Mrs. Garner noted that although the Guild would not be holding meetings during the summer months, she hoped that members would find articles or ideas for making articles to sell at the next Christmas Bazaar.

– Meet The Candidates –

Five Battle In GOP Congressional Primary

(For the next five weeks before the June 2 State Primary, the Courier will feature biographical sketches of all candidates running for the various contested offices in St. Lawrence County, the State, and Congress. This will include the five Congressional candidates and the three State Senatorial candidates on the Republican ticket. All other candidates will be featured in a special Section on May 28, the week before the election. — Editor)

* * *

When the big day arrived . . . the final day for filing petitions for candidates for the June 2 Primary Election, the roster of Republican hopefuls for the Seat in the House of Representatives from the 31st Congressional District still contained five names.

Donald Beaman, principal of Clayton Central School, announced his withdrawal from the race for the Republican nomination to the Seat now held by retiring Congressman Clarence Kilburn of Malone on Mar. 10, citing his present responsibilities and his disillusionment with political machines.

Mayor Edward J. Keenan of Ogdensburg, also an early candidate for the GOP nod for the coveted post, bowed out and pledged his support to State Senator C. McEwen, whose present Seat at Albany Keenan is now seeking.

This leaves McEwen, State Senator Henry A. Wise of Watertown in Jefferson County; Donald Taylor, Watertown attorney; Oswego County's Robert C. Fuller of Parish; and Publisher Mason Rossiter Smith of Gouverneur.

ROBERT FULLER

Robert C. Fuller

Robert C. Fuller, 43 years old, is vice-president of Parish Oil Company; past departmental Commander of the American Legion for the State of New York, and is active in civic affairs. He was graduatedfrom Manlius Military Academy and from Syracuse University.

Fuller is maried to the former Eloise Knapp of Fulton and the couple has three children, all in school. His community activities include: Red Cross and Lions Club International, director of Oswego County Boy Scout Council, and has worked with Republican party since 1956.

Fuller has announced a novel "ear to the ground" program, which he proposes to initiate if he should win the nomination and subsequently the election.

Noting that the trend in recent years is for Congress to remain in session the greater part of the year, thus making it necessary for Congressmen to be away from the District a majority of the time, Fuller said he would appoint five voluntary Field Men, one from each county in the 31st District.

These people would serve as his eyes and ears while he attends sessions in Washington. "These five Field Men will be available to sek out the problems of the people, obtain a solution and report back to the voters. Naturally, if the constituents wish to contact me directly in Washington by mail or phone, they will be able to do that," Fuller continued.

SENATOR HENRY WISE

Henry A. Wise

Henry A. Wise, who has served in the State Senate since 1947, is a Watertown native. He was graduated from the Virginia Military Institute, the University of Virginia, and served in the Army in World War 2.

Senator Wise served from 1940 to 1958 as chairman of the Jefferson County Republican Committee, and has served on many important committees in the Senate. He is married and the father of four children.

Perhaps Senator Wise is best known in the North Country for his accomplishments in the field of Social Welfare, while serving in the Senate; and for his stand in the recent controversy within the State Legislature regarding the State Liquor Control bill. Senator Wise was one of the Northern legislators who voted "no" on the so-called Moreland proposals, and who openly decried the Governor's attitude and actions in recalling the Legislature after they had turned down the recommendations of his Moreland Commission.

The Jefferson County Senator has also been much in the news as a result of his endorsement by the Jefferson County Republican Committee, and the criticism of his opponents in this matter. St. Lawrence County Republican Committee has refused to endorse any candidate.

Child Photographer Set At Wards Store

Nothing is more fun than seeing a photograph of a child you love except watching an expert child photographer take the child's picture.

One of the nation's top child photographers will be taking pictures of a hundred babies and children a day at the semi-annual child photography event at Montgomery Ward, Depot and Raymond, Robert Wynant, manager, has announced.

Grant Shafer, a member of the nationally famous photographic team of Jack B. Nimble Portraits, Inc., will perform his camera magic in an open studio in view of parents and interested shoppers during store hours on Friday, May 2 and Saturday, May 9.

"Shafer takes as many pictures of babies and children in a week as most studio photographers take in a year," said Wynant. "It is amazing to see how he can in a minute or two get a child to relax and put on his best expression. He will make from six to eight exposures to be certain that he has caught the child in a natural and endearing pose," said Wynant.

Most of the children range in age from five weeks to six years. A few are as old as 12.

Shafer sends the exposed film to the Jack B. Nimble Portraits plant in St. Louis, where more than 60 persons handle and work on the development, enlarging, printing, mounting, and mailing processes of each picture before the 11" x 14" portraits are returned to the proud parents.

I am not alone.—(John 8:16).

Through Jesus Christ, God has blessed us with a feeling that wherever we are, He is. If we but accept His light, His substance, His love, we will never be alone.
