Area Soliciting Begins In Surrounding Towns

The Potsdam Hospital Building Fund, this week carries its campaign into the several surrounding communities including Norfolk, Norwood, Brasher Falls, Colton, South Colton, Hannawa Falls, Parishville, Sanfordville, West Stockholm and Winthrop. Campaign committees have been organized in each of these communities and several hundred voluntary solicitors are seeking contributions from both businesses and individuals in the several communities.

Jean P. Hawley and Morton S. Winters, co-chairmen of the Area Gifts Division, expressed the hope that all area residents would take part in this phase of the campaign by welcoming workers when they call and giving generously to the campaign. Winters noted that during last year, the Potsdam Hospital once again proved its value by serving many hundreds of patients coming from outlying areas.

He noted that 300 patients had come from the area covered in the Brasher Falls-Winthrop campaign, 141 from Colton, 13 from Hannawa Falls, 197 from Norfolk, 420 from Norwood, 98 from Parishville, 91 from South Colton and 57 from West Stockholm - Sanfordville. Hawley pointed out that the proposed new hospital would increase the bed capacity to 112 and modernizing its service facilities.

Clarkson College of Technology began its in-plant solicitation of staff and faculty on Tuesday, Apr. 28 with a series of informative meetings highlighting the details of the campaign and featuring an address by Dr. William L. Whitson, president of the college. Chairman William Harrison announced this week the first report and listed 46 gifts totaling $7,586.

The Women's Division, under the leadership of Mrs. Morton S. Winters, will hold its first report meeting on Friday, May 15 at 10:30 a. m. in the Town House. All Residential Chairmen are urged to contact their workers and report as many cards as they have completed by that time.

The House-toHouse and Area Divisions are scheduled to complete their activities during the month of May with a final report to be scheduled early in June.

in back of the Pearl's Department Store) for customer and employee parking.

The major moving job will involve the large machines, and is expected to take the better part of several days over the Memorial Day Weekend. The Courier has been at its present site, 59 Market Street, since the turn of the Century.

When the renovation and moving jobs are completed sometime in early June, the Courier will hold a ribbon-cutting ceremony including village and town officials and officials of the Northern New York Publishing Company; and will also hold an Open-House for the general public to inspect the new facilities.

Board

withdrew its request for an additional $500 for equipment repairs.

It was also decided that the firemen would provide the village with a financial report at the end of the present year; and will also keep records of special "work sessions" being established this year, as recommended by the Fire Underwriters in their report to the village. Members of the Committee included Trustee Richard Murphy, Chief Louis White, Paul Whalen, Mulcare, and Anderson.

The Board also unanimously approved the Board of Chiefs of the Department for the year, again headed by White.

BUILDING INSPECTOR: Richard Cambridge was named Building Inspector for the Village to replace Mulcare, who revealed to the Board that, as Administrator and Clerk, he could not legally hold the title of Building Inspector.

WHEEL BREAKDOWN: Mulcare also told the Board Monday that the wheel in the Village's Generating Plant had broken down several days ago, and that it would cost around $7,000 to repair. He informed the Board that the repair was necessary if the village is to continue to generate its own power. When the village does not use it own power for its facilities, including street lights, civic center, police station, and filter plant, it buys it rate of $100 a day. The Board from Niagara-Mohawk at a was faced with the alternative of either repairing the wheel or buying the power at $100 a day. They passed the motion unanimously.

nicant steps towards integrating the efforts of all sciences contributing to space flight and space travel.

The Clarkson President applied the techniques of interdisciplinary endeavor — for which he is noted in the educational field—toward the solution of many of the problems of space travel and exploration.

Under his leadership the constitution and organization of the Association has been revised during the past year to reflect the importance of all science disciplines in the advancement of the astronautical sciences.

Dr. Whitson has been associated with the national space effort during much of his professional career.

Noted as the man who put the Titan missile into space, he was Vice President for Planning of the Martin-Marietta Corp. before assuming the Clarkson presidency last year. He had served previously as Vice President of the Denver Aerospace Division of the Martin Corp., where he was responsible for research and development, and production of the Titan missile programs, and supervised the installation and activation of all Titan field operating sites.

traffic is more important than making a profit."

No Toll Increase

Concluding his frank remarks on the Seaway, the Deputy Speaker said: "In view of these difference of opinion, I would recommend we keep the status quo for two or three years. By then, we will know more about refinancing possibilities and the traffic potential of the Seaway. Also, the Welland Canal twinning will be completed. Duplicate facilities here at Cornwall will inevitably have to follow that."

On the general topic of tariffs and "buy Canada" moves in such fields as auto parts, Mr. Lamoureux commented that Canada is only trying to redress some very unfair situations. All of its auto factories are owned "abroad" and in 1962 Canada imported $519 million worth of autos and parts, against exports of only $15.5 million. "Canada MUST expand its manufacturing potential, and the only way to do so is to sell more abroad, including the U.S."

He said that "Canada does not favor" across-the-board tariff cuts, but rather negotiations on specific items, such as cheese. Last year, Canadian producers were able to export only $275,000 of their noted Cheddar, while total cheese imports were five times as much.

Lucien Lamoureux was thanked for his talk by President George Little, general manager of the Potsdam Courier-Freeman, and numerous questions were raised from the floor. Others attending Friday's meeting were:

Charles W. Kelly, Ogdensburg Advance-News; Michael Knapp, Potsdam Courier-Freeman; Ira Zimmerman, WSTS Radio, Massena; Jerry Johnston and Nick J. Podgurski, Massena Observer; Virgil H. Bisset, WSLB Radio, Ogdensburg; Robert A. Neary, Aluminum Company of America; Donald M. Robinson and Paul Cote, Gananoque Reporter; A. E. Gratton, Arnold Hughes and Paul Cragg, Cornwall Standard-Freeholder; Franklin F. Little, Ogdensburg Journal and John T. Doyle, Massena Observer.
