Mildred Post Proves College's Right Hand

Miss Mildred Post, secretary to Dr. Frederick Crumb, president of State University College here, has held her secretarial position at the college since 1941, coming here from Schenectady.

A graduate of Albany Business College, Miss Post had been employed in the personnel division of General Electric at Schenectady, and had always lived there. But she's now a confirmed Northern New Yorker, and one of the most enthusiastic supporters of its climate, beauty, and recreational advantages.

When she first decided to come to Potsdam, Miss Post admits that she was understandably concerned as to how she might 'fit in' to the comparatively rural atmosphere of this small college town, after having been 'conditioned', so to speak, to the conveniences and advantages of city life.

Adjusted Quickly

She says, however, that she quickly became adjusted and that she has always found her co-workers, employers and the townspeople themselves the friendliest of people; and she is sure she couldn't be happy anywhere else now.

Millie Post is a club woman, and says laughingly that she thinks she's been secretary of about every organization in town. She accepts this good-naturedly as a compliment to both her secretarial and executive abilities, particularly in the matter of the Thursday Luncheon Club of which she was secretary for some years.

Zonta is her pet project, and she's a past president and past secretary of that business and professional women's organization, currently serving as vice-president.

The Country Club, the Republic Women's Club, the Campus Women's Club are also among her main interests.

Miss Post likes to travel — even if it's afoot. Her friends are now accustomed to her addiction to walking, but she has often startled them by refusing rides in favor of a stroll.

Exotic Places

Her vacations are often spent in far-off exotic places, of which she lists the most interesting, not necessarily in this order: Puerto Rico, St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, Antigua, Island of Montserrat, and Bermuda.

Miss Post's most recent activities have centered around the Money-In-Your Pocket Clinic being sponsored by the Woman's Program of the State Commerce Department, of which she is a member.
