

GOOD LUCK — Senator Robert F. Kennedy visited Massena Friday to launch the Democratic Party's campaign in St. Lawrence County. On hand to greet the junior senator were Francis G. Healey, candidate for reelection to the office of Town of Potsdam supervisor, and Mrs. Dorothy Forbush, who is seeking the seat presently held by Republican incumbent Town Councilman Joel Merriman.

"Ok, ok—I'll tell the doctor you feel you're an emergency—but if you're bluffing just to get in first, watch out!"

effective public relations services for the bank and the community," Robert P. Scott, Todd Division Public Relations Manager, said.

Printed in several colors, the St. Lawrence County National Bank check incorporates a number of skillfully executed line drawings symbolizing St. Lawrence County, its resources and industrial, commercial and educational activities.

The check calls attention to the bank's place in the community, as well as the community's importance to the nation and to the various industries in the area. It is an integral part of the financial institution's 1967 community service program to bring new industry into St. Lawrence County and new customers to its doors.

The bank plans to expand its business in the next 12 months by 15 percent, or more than two thousand new accounts. At the last quarterly report, the St. Lawrence County National Bank was the largest bank in St. Lawrence County, with capitalization of $2,232,438.18 and assets of more than $24,956,000. It was established in 1866.

In reaching potential customers, the bank is using every possible means, including advertising as well as its new checks. "The average bank check passes through the hands of more than 16 people," Wilmshurst said. "Multiply that by the number of checks issued through our bank yearly, and you have more than 20 million messages telling our story and that of our area to the world at large."
