

Worthy Community Project Completed

By Evelyn Riehl

Colton—Colton-Pierrepont's Teachers Association has brought to completion a most worthy community project. Under the direction of President Robert Sokolowski and Social Committee Chairman, Virginia McEwen, a photographic portrait of the late Miss Gertrude Krafft was presented to Colton's Hepburn Library. The portrait, from an early photograph of Miss Krafft, was found in her papers by Mr. and Mrs. John Potter and used by the Teachers Association for enlargement. Mounted by Paul Lewis, art teacher, in a frame made by Jerome Wilson, industrial arts teacher at the C-P School. It was presented at last week's Library Board meeting. Board Chairman, Jean Hawley, accepted the memorial with thanks, and the photograph now is installed above the desk where Miss Krafft served our community as Hepburn Librarian for so long. Miss Katherine Hayes was honored last week at a surprise farewell party given by the women teachers at Colton-Pierrepont. Miss Hayes, school nurse at C-P, has accepted a position as intensive care nurse at a New Jersey hospital and will leave for her new post next week.

Our whole community extends best wishes to Miss Hayes in her new position, and thanks for her services to C-P.
