Klein to open practice

Dr. Robert E. Klein, chiropractor, has moved to Norwood where he is establishing his practice and resides. Klein, a summa cum laude graduate of National College of Chiropractic, was class valedictorian. Klein is also a member of Parker Chiropractic Research Foundation.

He lives with his wife, Susan, and a daughter, Lorian. His wife plans to study for a degree in Elementary Education at State University College at Potsdam. Their daughter will attend Norwood Elementary School.

Klein is interested in settling in the North Country, having acquired land here in 1970. Once settled, he hopes to spend his free time on developing alternate energy projects, such as solar heating or wind generation. He sees his working with energy experiments "as a hobby."

Klein's office is located at 40 Main Street in Norwood. During the next few weeks, some modifications will be made to the office area but the office will be open.

A single negative test is no guarantee of freedom from brucellosis, cautions the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service. Isolate new cattle replacements from the established breeding herd and test again 30 to 60 days after purchase.
