

SUCP registration begins this week

Registration for matriculated undergraduate students at State University College at Potsdam will be held all day Wednesday and Thursday, August 24 and 25, it has been announced by Bruce Conroe, coordinator of educational services and assistant to the president.

Conroe also reported that registration for graduate students, regardless of what level courses they are registering, will be held on Wednesday, August 24 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Kellas Hall. Registration for non-matriculated undergraduate students (those not enrolled in a degree program) will be held Friday, August 26, in the Merritt Hall main gym from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 3 p.m.

New students in the non-matriculated groups should have with them a transcript of their most recent education and talk with an admissions officer as they begin the process in Merritt Hall, Conroe explained. High school seniors should also bring a letter of approval from their guidance people.

Evening registration for graduate courses at the college will be held from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 6, in Merritt Hall. New evening students will need transcripts and previously enrolled evening students will need their identification cards when registering, Conroe said.

Undergraduate classes will begin August 26, graduate classes on September 7 and the semester will end December 22.

There will be a registration in Watertown later for off-campus courses offered there. Other off-campus courses only will hold registration at the first class session.

Questions regarding registration for all credit-bearing courses offered at State University College at Potsdam should be directed to Conroe (268-2831).

Community action on drugs explored

At the last meeting of the Norwood-Norfolk Central School Community Action Group, the Reverend Robert DeWalt, pastor of the Norfolk and Raymondville United Methodist Churches was among the panel composed of citizens from the NNCS area.

On the topic "Search For Solutions To Local Alcohol and Drug Problems," the Reverend DeWalt stated: "From the beginning of Time, the family has been ordained as the primary unit of society. Tonight, we are concerned about the problems of drug abuse among our young. The family stands as the bulwark of caring and understanding for the youth of our community. But the family is in trouble throughout the North Country."

The family, he said, "is surrounded by many periphery institutions which both support the family and drain it of resources. Utilities, food, health, transportation, insurance, housing, school, government, taxing, recreation, and finance institutions become a drain upon our monetary and spiritual resources."

The family needs such institutions he said, "But they also demand time, energy, money and moral support, leaving nothing to support the family in a time when it is torn apart. These periphery institutions are all highly organized, drawing upon the resources of our families which are not highly organized."

"Pointing out that the church has always been available to help the family, DeWalt noted that "Today it stands as a secondary institution between the family unit and the others. We should call upon the Christian Church," he said. "To help us organize our families in their time of need. Together we can build moral strength and organize our communities to support families and help our youth."

Among the proposals to help solve the problem of drug abuse among young people were a teen center, community organizations sponsoring junior groups, instruction of the school staff through the County Sheriff's Department, organizing local churches, training to identify problems and act in a disciplined way, and hiring youth or volunteers on a contract basis.

The group's next step is to organize an ad-hoc or steering committee which will explore means of helping families and guiding the interests and energies of youth.

Personal Touch

BY BETTY B. NEWTON

Louise Collins celebrated her birthday this week. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Collins took her out to dinner on Monday night and on Wednesday night Mr. and Mrs. Keith Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Fay Collins feted her with a restaurant meal. When they brought her home, thirty-five grand-children and great-grandchildren were waiting to greet her.

I didn't ask her how many years young she was, but I do know she has been a "pillar of the Community" for many years.

Many of us learned our Sunday school lessons from her, many more were her pupils in the old District 4, Pierrepont School. Besides this she has been active in Adirondack Chapter 99, OES and the DAR.

She was also the Hannawa correspondent for the Courier until the past few months, and she still keeps a pad by her phone so that she can pass on to me any news that comes her way.

So Happy Birthday—a bit belatedly—from all of your neighbors and friends.

ROOTERS

Wishing "Aunt Louise," as I've called her all my life, a Happy Birthday reminded me of my mother. As nearly everyone does when they have to sort through another's possessions, I found several small souvenirs, of my youth. I discovered the small containers could be used to root slips in. To accommodate more, I made hangers by simply threading cord through a "Pringles" Potato chip plastic top. It makes a quick and easy way to hang the odd glass, candy containers or bottle in the window and also clears the window sill.

INJURED

Geoffery James and Matt Anable were injured in a motorcycle accident up near the Postwood entrance, this week. Geoffery was only bruised and came home from Potsdam Hospital on August 18. However, Matt received more serious injuries to the face and head and is a patient in Hepburn Hospital, Ogdensburg.

Further checks on little Christopher Weems revealed that he broke his leg in the accident he and his mother, Mrs. William Weems were involved in.

CALLERS

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Newton called on Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Owens, Wannakeena on Saturday, p.m., August 13 and then ate supper with the Hugh Newton's at Cranberry Lake. Hugh and his family returned home Sunday.

DINNER GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mousaw, Canton and Gladys Fadden, Lake Mary, Florida, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Newton on August 13.

FOOD SALE

Don't forget the U.M.W. food sale at the Hannawa Falls Church August 26. It's a good chance to stock up on your baked goods.

ROAST BEEF SUPPER

Also if you are baking for the food sale and weary on August 25, you can come to South Colton to the roast beef dinner the ladies of the U.M.W. up there are serving at 5:00

BARBECUE

We saw several of our Catholic friends and neighbors busy working at their barbecue on Sunday in Colton. Despite the bad weather, they had a good crowd and it proved a successful venture.

DRIVE TO SYRACUSE

Kennan and Andy Root left August 18 for Syracuse for a few days. Seems good to see Ken driving his car again.

AT COLES CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Newton spent Wednesday afternoon at Coles Creek visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van Ornum who are planning on returning to their home in Clear Water, Florida soon.

LEASH LAW

Again I'd like to remind dog owners that there is a leash law in Pierrepont. This means you are supposed to keep your animals confined to your own property at all times! Through the years we have become accustomed to dog manure on our yards and porches, but it is getting a bit much when our grand-children are growled and snapped at in our own yard and when we and our tenants have to listen to a "Doggie Serenade" through "out most of the night."

CHATting

Edith Gregg, Potsdam, stopped by to pick up her eggs and to chat awhile on Thursday morning.

VISITING

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Foster spent Thursday evening with the Carl Newtons.

HOSPITALIZED

William Weems was rushed to Hepburn Hospital early in the morning on August 19. Christopher is with his aunt, Lynda James.
