

Sunday Rock North 'n' South: Colton And South Colton News

BY DOROTHY AYERS
282-2455

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. James Restad on the birth of Darrik Matthew who arrived Dec. 28, 1979.

Whether we knew them personally or not, our community shared the grief of the families of the four young Madrid-Waddington students. One of them, David Griffin, was the grandson of Mrs.

Esther Olmsted, Cold Brook Drive, South Colton.

Good to report that Bob Frost is home now from Canton-Potsdam Hospital; Hazel Veber was transferred from hospital to Moongate Nursing Home; Royal Lyman is in Charlebois Nursing Home, Grace Hammond is in Potsdam Hospital and Helen Roman is home recuperating from surgery.

Town Clerk Elizabeth Ford reminds all dog owners who did not purchase a license for their dogs that are six months of age and older by Jan. 1 are in violation of the new state-mandated dog law. The names of all owners turned in by dog enumerator Art Tedford, and who have not as yet purchased a license, will be given to Lowell Gotham, dog warden for the Town of Colton. At the time this is being written there are 60 dogs still unlicensed in the Town of Colton.

At this time it might be pertinent to remind dog owners of the night quarantine for dogs in force in this county. It was laid at the request of the county board of supervisors to help protect livestock from dog damage. Dogs must be securely confined between sunset and one hour after sunrise. Any peace officer shall kill any dog at large in violation of such order. A dog shall not be deemed to be at large if accompanied by and under the full control of the owner. Any owner of a dog who shall neglect to confine his dog shall be subject to a penalty of $10.

Ken Tyler tells us there will be a Blood Clinic Feb. 5 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Presbyterian Center, Potsdam, sponsored by the following Masonic lodges: Racket River, Amber, High Falls and What Cheer.

When listing January birthdays we inadvertently omitted Theresa Hawley who celebrated Jan. 28. Mrs. Hawley is the 1980 secretary of the Senior Racquetters.

Student Group Helps Renters, Landlords Alike

Traditionally, the college student who chooses to live off-campus has had to go it alone, not only concerning the location of housing, but also in coping with any difficulties that arise.

The Student Government Association (SGA) at Potsdam State has recognized this need in a portion of its student body, and as a result has created the Off-Campus Association (OCA).

Initiated in September of 1979, the OCA was designed to "unify the voices of off-campus students into a meaningful advocacy for decent housing, a greater sense of corporate identity with the University, and a positive symbiotic relationship with the community."

Doug Edson, director of OCA, credited Bob Natowitz, executive vice-president of SGA, with being mainly responsible for getting OCA together. OCA hopes to become the primary contact point for the off-campus students to express their specific needs concerning any aspect of off-campus living.

Potsdam State's OCA was patterned after the OCA at SUNY at Binghamton, which has been in existence for nine years. Currently, an increasing interest concerning the needs of off-campus students is spreading throughout colleges both in-state and out-of-state. This increase has been seen as an attempt to address the future needs of older college students, as in the future the percentage of college students over 25 will greatly increase.

"Ultimately, OCA wants to tap into student's creativity, to get the program going even more," according to Edson, who added, "we need students behind us to be effective, it has to be known that the student support is there."

The OCA has several publications concerning various aspects of off-campus living that are available for students. These publications include a Renter's Information Package which will walk the reader through the process of renting and signing a lease, and a publication delineating and explaining the Potsdam Housing Codes.

Edson reported that the OCA wants to encourage landlords to live up to housing codes, and also encourage students not to be so hard on their living quarters. OCA will be available to help students with problems with landlords, but they will also be there to help landlords with problems with student tenants. The Association is there to facilitate matters for "both sides of the fence."

Beyond all else, OCA hopes that it will become an important resource for the off-campus student. They can participate in the association's development by sharing ideas and helping to define off-campus needs in a realistic way.
