Holiday Programming Offered

North Country Public Radio Station WSLU-FM will broadcast many special programs during the holiday season. Included in the holiday schedule will be many classical music and story programs, the traditional NPR New Year's Eve Jazz Special, and a New Year's Day concert live from Vienna, Austria, via satellite. The station's seasonal offerings include:

Dec. 15 at 6:30 p.m. — The Magic Carpet — Max Coats of Canton reads excerpts from his writings, published in the book Celebrating Christmas.

Dec. 22 at 6:30 p.m. — The Magic Carpet — Marlene Reed Crowell of Pierrepont reads her new Christmas story.

Dec. 23 at 8:05 p.m. — a performance of Handel's Messiah by the famous Handel and Haydn Society of Boston.

Dec. 24 at 2:15 p.m. — North Country guitarist Danny Gotham will present a program of holiday music.

Dec. 24 at 3 p.m. — Christmas at McCabe's — music by John Fahey and by Robin Williamson and His Merry Band, produced by NPR.

Dec. 25 at 11:10 a.m. — A

Renaissance Christmas with the Boston Camerata.

Dec. 25 at 2 p.m. — Live from the Metropolitan Opera — Humperdinck's classic opera "Hansel and Gretel."

Dec. 25 at 8:05 p.m. — A Prairie Home Companion Christmas Show with Scott Alarik, Dakota Dave Hull, Sean Blackburn, and lots more.

Dec. 31 (New Year's Eve) — WSLU-FM will be on the air all night to help you celebrate! NPR's Jazz Allie New Year's Eve program begins at 9:30 p.m. and features jazz stars Betty Carter and Trio, Jon Hendricks and Family, Jay McShann, Eddie "Lockjaw" Davis, Bobby McFerrin and Trio, vibraphonist Bobby Hutcherson, and swing fiddler Claude Williams. The program is made up of live performances from locations in four time zones, so you get to celebrate four times!

Jan. 1 (New Year's Day) — The Vienna Philharmonic New Year's Day Concert — direct via transatlantic stereo satellite from Vienna — Loren Maazel conducts music by the Strauss family. This traditional New Year's Day event begins at 11 a.m.
