

$8 Million In Bids Received

Low bids totaling $8 million were received last week on bond anticipation notes (BANs) for the village's water treatment and hydroelectric plants.

Lowest bidders for the water plant BANs were Manufacturers and Traders at 5.86 percent interest on $915,000 of the financing needed for the plant and 5.93 percent on $3,885,000 from Merrill Lynch.

Total financing on the water plant BANs is $4.8 million, according to village treasurer Mary Welch. The notes will expire May 29 of this year at which time village officials hope to go to permanent bonding.

The low bidder for the $3,195,000 one-year hydroelectric BANs was the Bank of New York at 6.25 percent.

The BANs, according to Mrs. Welch, are short-term notes that are loaned to the village in anticipation of more permanent financing in the form of long-term bonds.

Money from the bonds, she said, will be used to pay back the BANs.

The results of the bid openings were telephoned to the treasurer's office late Thursday morning by Mike McKinnon of Chemical Bank, financial advisors for the village.

Interest rates for the combined BANs for both the hydroelectric and water treatment facilities were 5.87 percent last year. Mrs. Welch said.

After bids on the water plant bonds were from another branch of Manufacturers and Traders at 6.03 percent; Chase Manhattan Bank at 6.0 percent; Key Bank, 6.1; Bank of New York, 6.15; Chase Manhattan Capital Marketing Group, 6.25; and Chemical Bank, 6.27.

Additional bids for the hydro BANs were Merrill Lynch at 6.27 percent; Key Bank, 6.45; Chemical Bank, 6.34; Manufacturers and Traders, 6.36; Chase Manhattan Capital Marketing Group, 6.4; and St. Lawrence National Bank bid for Roosevelt and Cross at 6.36 for $1 million, 6.39 for another $1 million, and 6.4 for $1,195,000.

Sunday Rock North 'n' South: Colton And South Colton News

BY DOROTHY AYERS

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Thelma Burwell Scholl. Sympathy is also extended to the family of little 4-year-old Barbara Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Willis. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McGee.

Carmel Cayey is a patient in Canton-Potsdam hospital where she underwent surgery on Jan. 6.

Erwin Garlough was admitted to the hospital on Jan. 3 and was scheduled for surgery on Jan. 6 by Dr. Avila.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown are parents of a son, Jeffrey Paul, born Dec. 13.

Too many people had Christmas dinner together to list them all but this one is news: Parepa Adams' son, Maj. Patrick Snell, together with his wife, Taranita, and three children, came from Belgium to spend time at Christmas with his mother and stepfather.

Maj. Snell recently completed 20 years in the Air Force but has extended his enlistment. His brother, Staff Sgt. Malcolm Snell and wife, Nancy, were also home from Plattsburgh Air Base for the holiday.

Parepa's daughter, Staff Sgt. Carol Johnson, also in the Air Force, was not able to come home; she will be attending instructor school in Alabama for the next few weeks.

At the January meeting of the Senior Racquetteers, January birthdays were observed for Doug Adams, Susan Cayey, Alberta Chase, Edna Dinsmore, Jean, Evans, Theresa Hawkey, Vivian Hosmer, Manie Leonard, Virginia Marks; Kenneth Morrow, Elsie Orton, Iris Rexford, Harriet Robideau, Rose Valyo, and Ethel Tedford.

Plans were made to pack and deliver fruit baskets to people aged 80 or shut-ins.

Hostesses were Alberta Chase and Jerry Perkins, who served delicious refreshments.

Also at the Senior Racquetteers meeting, Rose Valyo was appointed delegate to the county council, with Marie Marceau and Parepa Adams appointed alternates. Iris Rexford was appointed parliamentarian.

The Colton Historical Society ended the year 1983 by having a two-day Christmas party at the museum for all people in the Town of Colton.

Carols were sung around the tree, Santa paid a surprise visit, and all enjoyed the delicious homemade cookies and wassail.

Credits for decorating go to Carol Snell (glass display cases), Carolyn Parrette (interior and tree), and Carol Knapp (front door wreath).

Balsam pillows were made by Mrs. Cassel and Mrs. Spencer, with help from the following young people: Angela Hammond, Jennie and Julie Hennessey, Jennifer Sampson, and Brooke and Joelle Woolster. Ken Dodge donated the balsam.

Souvenir cards were made by Mrs. Cassel, Mrs. Spencer, and Mrs. Ayers.

Following is a list of people who have lent items to the museum for the various displays: Sherm and Dorothy Ayers, Lillian Cassel, Doug Decker, Tom Frank, Bernice Enslow, Carra Garlough, Jean and Theresa Hawley, Julie and Jennifer Hennessey, Bob and Kate Klein, Carol Knapp, Rachael

Morrow, Bernard and Beulah McCarthy, Virginia McEwen, Carolyn Parrotte, John and Iris Potter, Clark and Betty Ramming, Sid and Iris Rexford, Homer and Lorena Reed, Bill and Evelyn Riehl, Mary Root, Bill and Harriet Spencer, Jay and Cora Walter, Barbara Watson, and Mary Jane Watson.

Items were also loaned by each of the local churches. Names of donors of permanent gifts were published in November.

The society meets every other month, with the idea of preserving Colton's past and yet having a part in shaping its future. Presently there are 80 members, which hopefully will increase in 1984.

On Jan. 17 the Racquetteers will hold a covered dish supper at Hepburn Library at 6:30 p.m. Please bring a dish to share and your own table service. Afterward, people may play cards and games, sing, or whatever. See you there.

Personal Touch: Hannawa Falls Area News

BY BETTY B. NEWTON

The Hannawa Falls Fire Department elected officers recently. Chosen were: chief, Richard McCarthy for the second year; first assistant, Richard Brown; second assistant, Dan Snyder; third assistant, Roger Bambill; secretary, Jerry Moussaw; treasurer, Albert Weems, for the seventh year and Wallace Collins, special bingo officer.

The Well Child Clinic for this area is now being held in Pierrepont on the fourth Wednesday of every month. Appointments can be made with coordinator Cathy Kutsko, 386-4614. Children from birth to five years of age are eligible to attend this exceptionally well-staffed clinic.

Fran Ein, the original organizer is still working and directing the group. I have been familiar with the services in the past and was amazed then at the concern and individual attention each child received. It is a good way to get some of your tax dollars back and cut your medical bills at the same time. If they can not give you the type service you need, they have a list of qualified people in the area who can.

I am sure many folks, some 80 I believe, got the joyful announcement that the next Central Cluster meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in Massena and that we would all enjoy a yummy pot luck dessert. Omitted was when, it will be Jan. 24. There is a good program lined up so let us hope for good roads, so there is a large attendance.

South Colton Community Church held its church conference on Wednesday night at the church with Rev. Russell Lee, D.S. presiding. Harold LaComb is chairman of the board of trustees; Naomi Stowe, treasurer; Betty Newton, church secretary and Mary Fisher, president of the UMW. The other church officers were also duly elected and reports given before the meeting was adjourned by Rev. William Cuthbert. Refreshments were served.

On Thursday the UMW met at the home of Mary Fisher. The conference minutes were read for the information of those who could not attend. The January project will be a foodless food sale. Molly Johnson is chairman. Donations may be sent or given to her if she does not contact you before the next meeting.

In February, we will have an activity calendar again. This is really another donation project. Betty Newton is chairman. The rest of the projects for the year include a housewares party in March, Lenten cards in April, roast beef suppers the third Thursday of the month from May to October.

In June there will be the yard sale — flea market at Newton's on Route 56, in August or September another housewares party, November — Advent cards and in December the group will again have a memory tree to decorate their lawn and remind passersby of loved ones who are no longer here to share the holiday.

Lynn (Butch) Thomas is a patient in Potsdam Hospital. Though he is a resident of South Colton he is employed at the Birches.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simpson and Darlene arrived Dec. 30 for the weekend with Bev's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dahl McCormick. They returned home on Sunday. Darlene remained until Wednesday.

Once again large dogs are bounding around. It really doesn't matter whether they are friendly or not. When they bound into a person on icy footing and knock you down, it hurts just as much and the potential for injury is just as great. It is fortunate that Thelma Irish sustained only a sprained wrist, a bruised chest and wrenched shoulder from her encounter. I understand those two might have been visitors from out of state, but there are more that are now frolicking about, not only in Hannawa but in the outlying country. In case anyone is interested our new dogcatcher's telephone number is 386-9622.

Well Child Clinic In New Location

The Pierrepont-Colton Well Child Clinic is now located in the basement of the Pierrepont Town Hall. The clinic moved to the new site in October.

The time of the Pierrepont-Colton clinic has remained the same, 9 a.m. to noon on the fourth Wednesday of every month, with the exceptions of August. Appointments are necessary. For more information, call Cathy Kutsko, Well Child Clinic coordinator, at 386-4614.

The Well Child Clinics provide preventive health screening and guidance for children between birth and five years of age

Lyons Announces Three Banks Acquired

Edwin J. Lyons, president and chief executive officer of Community Bank System, Inc. and of The St. Lawrence National Bank of Canton, has announced the signing of an agreement in principal with Key Bank, Inc. of Albany, to acquire three offices of the Bank of New York located in the southwestern part of the state.

The offices covered in the agreement are located in Olean, Portville and Allegany in Cattaraugus County.

This agreement is subject to, and will become a part of an agreement between Key Bank, Inc. and the Bank of New York which was announced July 14, 1983.

In mid-1983, The St. Lawrence National Bank, a $230 million asset bank located in northern New York and the First National Bank of Ovid, a $25 million asset bank located in Ovid, N.Y., jointly agreed to establish a multi-bank holding company under the name Community Bank System, Inc.

Upon consummation of this transaction, Community Bank System will have three affiliate banks with assets totalling approximately $350 million, and branches totalling 25.

Approval of this undertaking has been received from the appropriate regulatory authorities, and consummation is expected on or about Feb. 1, 1984.

The Bank of New York offices in Olean, Portville and Allegany were, prior to 1969 when they were acquired by Bank of New York, chartered as the Exchange National Bank of Olean. Initially chartered in 1869 with its main office in Olean, the bank was the oldest bank in Cattaraugus County.

In commenting, Lyons stated that he was "pleased that a bank of this stature is joining the Community group. These three offices have grown with an almost identical dedication to local, community banking as have the other banks in the system."

It is anticipated that Community Bank System, Inc. will file for a new name and charter for the Olean Bank, and that unit will become a separate bank with its own identity and board of directors.
