

Midtown Notes

Midtown has lost another good friend with the passing of Clarence Hicks. He was a fine gentleman and surely will be missed.

We extend our sympathy to Mary Gibson. Her sister Mrs. Flora Wood, 97 years old of Dickinson Center, passed away.

Simon Belmore from Island Pond, Vt. spent a few days with his grandparents, Dick and Gladys Belmore.

The pancake and sausage breakfast put on by the men at Midtown went over in a big way. They have promised to do it again in the near future.

Gladys Belmore went to Massena with her son, Peter, to watch her grandson, Chad Samson, play hockey. Chad lives in Cornwall, Ont. His team won.

Forgot to mention before that the Belmores had all their children for Christmas dinner.

Dick Nichols is home from Syracuse. After he gets rested up, he's taking off again.

If anyone at Midtown has news they would like put in the paper, please contact Bunny Sullivan.

Mayfield News

Twila Cole returned home last week from her stay in Syracuse, and wishes to thank friends who sent cards, gifts, etc. while she was in the hospital there and also after she returned home.

We appreciate the beautiful memorial service which Monsignor William Argy led for us last week in the dedication of our memory tree project. Thanks also to Robert John McGill for the sacred piano concert he gave at the beginning of the service.

There will be no coffee hour on the 11th of January. Instead we will meet at the center for a program by the Raquetteers Senior Citizens Choir of Colton at 2 p.m. on Jan. 11. Cookies and coffee will be served.

Bingo will be played at 1:30 p.m. on Jan. 14.

Prepare For Diploma Exam

If you've always wanted to complete your high school diploma, perhaps 1984 will be the year. The BOCES Adult Learning Center is now open, and you can prepare for the Feb. 4 GED exam or enroll in the External Diploma Program.

The center is located in the Presbyterian Center, and is open Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. For more information, call Betty Kassoff or Bobby Gordon at 265-2498.
