Parishville And Hopkinton News And Notes

BY HELEN CONDON

The midwinter blues, otherwise known as cabin fever has settled over the North Country. People are looking at their supply of wood with apprehension, hoping it holds out until spring. College students are at the beginning of a new and challenging semester. Those who commute are finding these old cars don't really like to start after sitting out in -20 temperatures all night.

Walls, ceilings, curtains, windows and rugs are crying through their dinginess for a good spring cleaning. It is discouraging to finally face that load of dirty dishes only to find when you turn on the faucet that the water pipes have frozen.

The dog population is even indignant, knowing about the leash law which started Jan. 23 throughout the Adirondack Park due to the running of deer. The sportsmen have cabin fever, even with a new set of cross-country skis in the closet, for the wind on top of such cold temperatures makes it impossible to enjoy the great outdoors. Usually this malady arrives in late February but seems she sneaked in early this year.

What, then, can the prescription for this disease be? Warmth! First of all. Then, second, a good book — a new project, perhaps knitting a sweater, making new drapes, repairing a piece of furniture — trying a new recipe — calling a friend — feeding the birds, or as Marie Murphy up at Joe Indian does, feeding the deer — buying a plant or starting one from a friend — starting a bunch of crocus bulbs indoors — planting half a sweet potato in a glass on your windowsill — taking a whole afternoon of to soak in the tub and do your nails — learn to play back-gammon or chess — start a puzzle — change your furniture — cut a stencil and do a wall — paint a bird flying, butterflies or a large fern with poster paint on a window — be creative — for spring eventually comes headed by the robins and it might seem like an eternity but the ice and snow are covering the green grass like they're hiding a secret. Only we've been through this all before and we can't forget how warm and sunny she can be.

The Hilltoppers, our senior citizen group, will be having a dinner at the Masonic Hall on Feb. 1 at 6 p.m. for members only. The Eastern Star has graciously offered to put this dinner on for them to help celebrate their 10th anniversary. Reservations should be made by Jan. 26 by calling Corrine Covey, president of the group. Other officers include Katherine Snell, first vice pres.; Winnie Bicknell, second vice president; Thelma Forrest, secretary; Madeline Potenzano, asst. secretary; Rena Irene Runions, treasurer; assistant treasurer; Edwina (Dixie) Eleck, chaplain.

The Republican Club of Hopkinton will hold a covered dish supper at the Hopkinton Town Hall on Jan. 26 at 5 p.m. The proceeds of this event will go to the much publicized Norwood Brass Firemen. According to a representative of the club the trip to Sarajevo, Yugoslavia by the Brass Band is an honor for the entire North Country and any help we can give them helps to carry our pride and esteem with them.

The Parishville Town Board appointed John Mittelstaedt as building inspector at their January 1984 organizational meeting. Anyone wishing to use for a purpose not intended, construct, alter, extend, remove or demolish a structure may contact John at his Rt. 4, Potsdam address, telephone 265-3698 for a building/use permit application for which there will be a $10 minimum fee plus 50 cents additional fee for each $1,000 of value added over the first $1,000 pursuant to Section 5,020 of the Town of Parishville Site Review Law.

Surplus cheese will be handed out on Jan. 26 at 9:30 a.m. at the Town Hall in Parishville.

Anyone with news for next week's column is asked to call Helen Condon at 265-2482 before Jan. 27.

Clarkson Carnival Continues

The roller coaster ride continues for Clarkson's hockey season Wednesday night at Vermont. The Knights have had their ups and downs, but have remained exciting throughout.

One of the downs was Friday night's 3-2 loss to Boston University, bringing Clarkson's record to 10-8-1 overall and 6-5 in ECAC play.

Terriers' lightning struck twice 14 seconds apart in the first period when Paul Gerlitz and Denis LaGarde netted goals. But Clarkson weathered that storm, and when it broke, second-period goals by Jim O'Meara and Pat Haramis gave the Green and Gold some daylight.

But BU's Peter Marshall tallied the gamer with just 1:18 left in the second session, stopping the charging Knights.

With the lead, the visitors concentrated on keeping the Knights from scoring. And with the nation's top ranked goaltender in Cleon Daskalakis, why not?

Daskalakis and the BU defense foiled every Clarkson opportunity, with the netminder recording 25 saves for the game. Don Sylvestri stopped 23 Terriers shots for Clarkson.

Justifying for playoff position, The Knights will host Maine Saturday after their visit to Vermont.

Knights Cagers Split

Sixty-two points proved sufficient for Clarkson in their 62-61 win over Oswego State Wednesday, but 61 points was not enough as Alfred downed the Knights 73-61 Sunday.

The 5-8 Knights come off Monday's RT game to battle St. Lawrence Wednesday.

2 Knights All-State

Clarkson junior Chuck Kessler and freshman Brian Granger earned All-New York State honors when both wrestlers placed in the top six of their weight categories at the state tournament in Binghamton over the weekend.

Kessler, who lost his first match in the 158-pound class to the eventual champion, came back to win five straight matches to earn third place. Granger, a Massena native, won three matches to finish sixth in the heavyweight division.

The Knights finished 14th out of 22 teams in the tourney, which included many Division I schools. Clarkson will wrestle at Norwich Wednesday.

Lady Knights Beat Hamilton

Senior Kelli Heffernan scored twice, including the gamer, and assisted on another goal in Clarkson's 4-2 victory at Hamilton Saturday. Cathy Chamption-Demers and Krista Knight also scored for the Green and Gold.
