WWNY Names Managers

WATERTOWN — James C. Corbin has been named production manager at WWNY-TV in Watertown. The announcement was made by General Manager Kevin Mastellon. Corbin's appointment is effective immediately.

Corbin will coordinate all interdepartmental production requirements and supervise a staff of directors and production technicians. He joined WWNY in 1981 as a staff photographer with duties focused on news and commercial photography and editing.

Edward V. Dempsey has been named general sales manager at WWNY, succeeding Peter Fazio, who retired Dec. 22.

Dempsey has a solid background in research, marketing and local, regional and national sales experience at the network and affiliate level, Mastellon said. He began his duties at WWNY in mid-December after coming to Watertown from Saginaw, Mich.

Fazio joined WWNY in 1965 as an account executive and was promoted to sales manager in 1983.

'Country Club' Memberships

WATERTOWN — The Disabled Person's Action Organization has announced that the 1987 membership drive for the Country Club is underway. This is the second year for the country music club which offers special advanced ticket sales, ticket discounts and reductions in meals at area restaurants.

Last year, the Country Club was a success with over 850 members receiving Club Card privileges under the innovative marketing package the non-profit organization has conceived to help boost ticket sales of big name country music shows they sponsor to raise funds to run their programs for the disabled.

Membership in the Country Club offers the opportunity to purchase preferred reserved seating for all major country music shows sponsored by DPAO in 1987, a 10 percent discount on a pair of reserved or general admission tickets per show and a 10 percent discount at participating local restaurants on show dates.

Anyone interested in joining can send a $10 check or money order to: Country Club, Box 222, Watertown, NY 13601. For Master Card or Visa orders, please call 315-782-0044. Membership is limited so those who wish to join are urged to do so now. This promotion ends Jan. 31, 1987.
